Accounting

The Accountancy of Investment

By the late Charles E. Sprague, C.P.A., President, Union Dime Savings Bank, New York. Revised by Leroy L. Perrine, C.P.A. Third edition. 3rd printing, 1919. 371 pages. 6 x 8¾. Cloth binding. $5.00.

Thoroughly covers the calculations required in arriving at the returns on investments, and the recording of the financial amounts involved. In four parts: (1) The mathematics of investment, including all the calculations in connection with annuities, sinking funds, simple and compound interest, bond valuations, amortization schedules, loans, mortgages, etc.; (2) Problems illustrating such calculations in detail; (3) The use of ordinary and 12-place logarithms in investment calculations, with tables; and (4) 8-place tables of (a) Compound Interest, (b) Present Worth, (c) Amount of Annuity, (d) Present Worth of Annuity, (e) Sinking Funds. Arithmetical methods are followed throughout, making an extensive knowledge of higher mathematics unnecessary to understand the work.

Accounting Practice and Procedure

By Sir Arthur Lowes Dickinson, C.P.A., C.A., F.I.A., member of the firm of Price, Waterhouse & Company. 5th printing, 1919. 309 pages. 6 x 8¾. Cloth binding, $4.00.

A guide to the best practice in handling some of the more important questions arising in advanced accounting, such as the application of correct principles in the preparation of the profit and loss account and the balance sheet, and the best accounting treatment of fixed property, investments, reserves, inventories, capital stock, bonded debt, contingent liabilities, repairs, renewals, depreciation, new construction, etc. The author discusses each question thoroughly, gives the different procedures advocated, comments on each, and states his opinions and conclusions. He also discusses some special points in connection with corporation accounting and finance, cost accounting, and the duties and responsibilities of the public accountant. The author is one of the most widely experienced men in the accounting profession, and his suggestions are exceedingly helpful in handling the problems covered.

VOLUME I.

An excellent book for beginners in accounting. It gives a clear and logical view of the theory of accounting, the interrelation of the balance-sheet and profit and loss statement, the theory of debit and credit, and the general details of accounting work. Working back from the final accounting statements, the book explains the operation of the ledger and the journal; the classification of accounts; business papers and their connection with accounting; and details of posting, taking off trial-balance, closing the books, locating errors, etc. The problems of partnership and corporation accounting are illustrated by examples. Any student who covers the book thoroughly should acquire from it an excellent conception of the theory and elementary practice of accounting.

VOLUME II.

This volume comprises a thorough discussion of the balance sheet and profit and loss statement and the many problems connected with them, chief among which is that of valuation. In connection with this the question of depreciation is given very thorough treatment, more than 100 pages being devoted to it. The general principles of valuation and their detailed application to individual assets; valuation of capital stock; surplus; reserves; dividends; forms of statement; etc., are typical questions discussed. Supplementary to these are discussions of the corporate form of business, the voucher system, manufacturing accounts, mergers, consolidations, numbered accounts, accounts and reports in bankruptcy, adjustment of fire losses, branch and agency accounting, statistics in business, etc. The material designed to give practice in the application of principles is well thought out and admirably adapted to its purpose. The great difference between "Effective Business Letters" and other books on this subject is that this book not only gives examples of effective letters, but it shows just how to write them, from making a single sentence as strong as possible to co-ordinating the entire letter into one strong and effective statement. This book teaches how to write winning letters—letters that accomplish their purpose, whether it be to make a sale, refuse credit without offending the customer, collect a slow or bad account, or simply a routine letter which will bring good will to a company. There are clear and definite instructions, real help in "Effective Business Letters." It is difficult to frame a question on the business letter that this book does not answer. Concerns noted for their efficient methods are using from 6 to 60 copies in their correspondence departments.

English in Business

By Dudley Miles, Ph.D., Chairman of Department of English, The Evander Childs High School, New York City; Instructor in Business English, New York Chapter, American Institute of Banking. 1920. 449 pages. 5 x 7¼ Cloth. $2.00.

This is a textbook for boys and girls who are going out into active life rather than for those who go to college. It deals with the English Language in a progressive and exceedingly practical way and thoroughly covers the essentials. Part I deals with the use of English in the simplest business situations; Part II with the use of English in situations that require judgment, tact, diplomacy, or keen intelligence; and Part III presents the fundamentals of good English wherever it may be used. Among the subjects amply explained are unity, coherence, and emphasis in the sentence; the wording of letters; developing ideas fully and clearly, argument; sales letters and sales talk; punctuation; essential uses of capital letters; etc. Appendices include a glossary of words frequently misused, abbreviations of commercial terms, and material relating to telegrams, filing, and proofreading. A special feature of this book is that it assists the teacher in developing in the pupil the ability to apply the fundamental principles to the criticism and correction of his own work.

Extended Bond Tables

By the late Charles E. Sprague, C.P.A., President Union Dime Savings Bank, New York, author of "The Accountancy of Investment," and "Philosophy of Accounts." Fourth edition. 2d printing. 1919. 233 pages. 4¾ x 8¼. Flexible leather binding. $10.00.

Gives (a) the rate of income a bond will yield at a certain price, or, (b) the price at which a bond will yield a certain annual income. While there are, of course, many sets of bond tables published, the distinctive features of these tables are their scope and accuracy. The results are carried out to 8 places of decimals, giving values accurate to the nearest cent in $1,000,000. While the rate of the ordinary tables varies by eighths and tenths of 1%, these read direct by twentieths of 1%, and if difference tables are used, by hundredths of 1%. The tables can be used for bonds ranging as to interest from 1¼% to 10% annually and running for periods extending from one-half year to 100 years. By means of special tables, quarterly or annual bonds may readily be reduced to semi-annual income basis. The tables may also be used as annuity tables.

The Financing of Public Service Corporations

By Milton B. Ignatius, LL.M., of the New York Bar. Assistant to General Valuation Counsel, New York Central Lines; Formerly Statistician and Accountant, Public Service Commission of New York. 1918. 508 pages. Cloth binding. $5.00.

An exhaustive treatise designed as a guide to all phases of public service financing, and its regulation by the government. Mr. Ignatius brings to his treatment of the subject a precision of touch and clearness of style which add greatly to the exceedingly valuable information set forth. The manual discusses with evident mastery and at great length every detail of the four big branches of its subject. Part I, Corporations and Public Regulation: Part II, Capital Stocks: Part III, Funded Debt: Part IV, Capitalization. It is not only a general statement or discussion of the subject, but a decidedly authoritative, problem-solving guide for the corporation officer, the accountant, the banker, broker, and public official. It is so comprehensive and explicit that it gives a thorough grasp, from fundamental theories and principles to the solution of the most technical problem. Even those parts of the book dealing with primary matters will be useful to the expert because of the clear exposition of underlying principles. It correlates and binds together the subjects of corporation finance, corporation law, corporation financing, and the economics of public regulation.

Foreign Exchange: Theory and Practice

By Thomas York, A.M., formerly Foreign Exchange Editor of the Wall Street Journal. 1920. 182 pages. 6 x 8½. Cloth binding. $2.50.

In this manual the author first explains thoroughly the monetary and economic principles underlying Foreign Exchange. Then, with illustrative transactions he takes up the several kinds of exchange in theory and practice, explains their individual peculiarities, gives formulæ showing how prices are determined, and tells how, why, and when each is used. The functions and transactions of the foreign exchange banker, the operation of commercial and banker's bills, and miscellaneous foreign exchanges receive equally thorough treatment.

Getting the Most Out of Business

By E. St. Elmo Lewis, Counsel in Organization and Management. Third edition. 9*th printing*, 1919. 515 pages, 6 x 8¾. Cloth binding. $4.00.

Every page of this book makes a man stop and think. Mr. Lewis has been for years one of the representative figures among American business men—in close touch with the policies and methods of concerns like the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, the National Cash Register Company, the Art Metal Construction Company, etc., holding positions from Vice-President and General Manager down. He is a keen student of men and methods, policies and results, success and failure. In this book he gives hundreds of examples of these, and from them formulates a philosophy of business that is not only inspiring but sound in practice. Specific problems are discussed—advertising, selling organizations, management, handling of men, discipline, personal efficiency in getting things done. Business men in important positions all over the country have bought this book and cannot say too much for it.

Indexing and Filing

By E. R. Hudders, C.P.A.; Member of the American Institute of Accountants; Member of the American Statistical Association. 6*th printing*, 1919. 292 pages. 5¾ x 8½. Cloth binding. $4.00.

A complete standard practice manual that has been badly needed. Nearly all published information on filing so far available either gives details for one special class of files, or simple broad information about the general system of files used. This book gathers the definite, specific information into one systematic volume for use in business offices. It explains the five basic systems of filing and where each can best be used, and explains in full each detail of filing work—the indexing, filing of cards, filing of papers, finding lost papers, transferring, grouping of records, filing of information and data, catalogues, purchase, sales and credit records, invoices, checks, vouchers, electrotypes and cuts, etc. There is a chapter that will be very helpful in the selection of filing equipment as needed, and illustrative chapters giving the full working details of files for three typical offices—lawyers, architects, and accountants.

Influencing Men in Business

By Walter Dill Scott, Ph.D., President, Scott Company, Consultants and Engineers in Industrial Personnel, Director Bureau of Salesmanship Research, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Director Psychological Laboratory, Northwestern University. 9th printing, 1919. 186 pages, 5 x 7¾. Cloth binding. $2.00.

"Influencing Men in Business" shows how to develop the ability to influence men by mastering a few simple laws for influencing their minds. Long ago, business men turned to chemistry and physics for help in handling things. Now the most progressive leaders are turning to psychology for help in handling men. The author of this book is one of the leading practical psychologists of the country. For years he has studied, experimented and tested to find the practical applications of psychology to business. In the present book he explains the mental processes by which men think and are led to act. His statement of this is strictly scientific—as authoritative as a manual of chemistry, yet so clear and practical that the business man can put its ideas to use the very day he reads it.

Language for Men of Affairs

Volume I, Talking Business, by John Mantle Clapp, Lecturer on the Language of Business, New York University; formerly Professor of English, Lake Forest College, and Secretary of the Committee on American Speech. Volume II, Business Writing, edited by James Melvin Lee, Director of Department of Journalism, New York University; formerly President, American Association of Teachers of Journalism; Author of "History of American Journalism," etc. Two volumes. 1137 pages. 6 x 8⅝. Cloth binding. $8.00.

Without being a grammar or a manual of elocution or rhetoric this two-volume set gives you the essentials of all of these. It is strictly a business book for the business man and does not burden the memory with technicalities or unimportant detail. It deals with the business man's special language problems. The aim of the authors has been to offer a series of practical conferences on the essentials of language, both spoken and written.

Volume I, Talking Business, deals with the power to use speech intelligently. This ability is demanded in every modern business occupation. It is the result of careful training and can be developed only by making use of everyday opportunities. This manual points out these opportunities and shows how to take advantage of them. It explains methods of training and gives practical instruction, with pertinent illustrations and really helpful exercises. Every phase of the subject is fully discussed and it will enable the reader to solve the problem of how to get the desired reaction in the mind of the other man. "Talking Business" will be invaluable to every business man who may be required to convey his thought either to a single listener or to a group.

Volume II, Business Writing, deals with the business man's other great problem, "How shall I put it in Writing?" It aims to tell him just the things he must know when he has to write a letter, get up a report, convey an advertising idea to the copy-man, or some similar business matter. Elementary points which enter into all writing are fully discussed and the use of punctuation is explained in a simple, helpful way that clears up many perplexities. The peculiar features and necessary technique of special types of business writing are also clearly and comprehensively handled. In this volume, under the editorial guidance of James Melvin Lee, a number of well-known business men and writers have contributed to a well planned and harmonious whole. Each is a specialist in his field. All have kept the needs of the business man in view, and for his benefit have omitted the unnecessary and stressed the essential points.

New Collection Methods

By Edward H. Gardner, Associate Professor of Business Administration, University of Wisconsin: Author of "Effective Business Letters." 3d printing. 1919. 467 pages. Cloth binding, $5.00.

A manual of great practical utility. Takes up and deals at length with the actual credit and collection methods of many successful concerns. It points out in specific terms the most effective procedure for successful work. It outlines definite methods of collection for the manufacturer, jobber, and retailer; for mail order and instalment houses. Collection-letter writing is treated in a most helpful manner. The importance of the credit and collection function as part of the sales machine is given a warranted place of prominence. Trade acceptances are covered at length. The book contains valuable advice upon the organization and management of credit and collection work.

Office Management

By Lee Galloway, Ph.D., Secretary National Association of Corporation Schools, Professor of Commerce and Industry, New York University. 4th printing, 1920. 701 pages. Cloth binding. $6.00.

The business manager, office manager, chief clerk, and every department head will find this work of unusual value in the planning and control of office systems. The author and his co-workers have visited many of the best organized offices in this country. This book, which is the result of their investigations, presents the best modern methods for handling the routine functions of practically every business department.

Office management, down to the minutest physical detail, is clearly explained in this treatise, and the newest systems of office arrangement are described, even to the advantageous placing of desks and filing cabinets. The selection and leasing of an office, the use of labor-saving devices, the handling of mail and interdesk communications, the stenographic, purchasing, and other departments, are among the many important problems treated in this book.

For the organizer, the author presents fundamental rules for the analysis of conditions; the standardization of processes, and the control of personnel and production.

Wages and bonus systems are covered at length, comprehensive and practical chapters are devoted to the hiring and developing of office help. In this connection the author presents a full outline of courses being used in typical business houses.

The Principles of Advertising

By Harry Tipper, Business Manager of Automotive Industries; H. L. Hollingworth, Assistant Professor of Psychology, Barnard College; G. B. Hotchkiss, Professor of Business English, New York University; F. A. Parsons, President, New York School of Fine and Applied Art. 1920. 376 pages. 5¾ x 8½. Cloth. $3.00.

This is an adaptation for textbook purposes of "Advertising —Its Principles and Practice," by the same authors. It covers thoroughly the principles of market analysis, writing copy, selection of illustrations, layouts, and other details of advertising work. Shows the economic relation of advertising to marketing, and explains interestingly and practically the economic and human nature foundation of successful advertising. The effective way in which it handles psychology, copywriting, display, media, and other branches of the subject, makes it the most complete and valuable textbook on advertising yet published.

Principles of Foreign Trade

By Norbert Savay, of the New York Bar. Formerly International Salesman, Counsel for Russian Consulate General, and Special Lecturer on Foreign Trade at Notre Dame University. 1919. 495 pages. 6 x 8¾. Cloth binding. $4.00.

This new manual covers every principle of foreign trade, and blocks out completely all the steps that must be taken in formulating foreign sales campaigns. It gives all the necessary information, lists, and tables, and is designed to serve both as reference and text book on all the factors entering into international commerce. Savay's book embraces commercial laws and policies, principles of distribution, foreign trade machinery of the U. S. Government, training of representatives and salesmen, technicalities of packing, shipping arrangements, customs procedure, marine insurance, collection methods, tariff laws, regulations governing foreign trade salesmen, and many hundreds of other points of equal importance. In short, it will give you a well-rounded knowledge of foreign trade—its procedure, principles, technique, and possibilities.

Principles of Salesmanship

By Harold Whitehead, Professor of Sales Relations and Head of Vocational Department in the College of Business Administration of Boston University; Author of "The Rexall Course of Salesmanship." 2*d printing,* 1919. 389 pages. 6 x 8¾. Cloth binding, $3.50.

A new book giving practical selling instruction in a series of lessons, each of which deals with a distinct phase of the subject. It takes up each detail of making the sale, illustrating it with interesting dialogues, and tests the reader's knowledge with specific questions whose answers develop clear, accurate thinking. It teaches how to prepare and deliver the selling talk—how to approach and handle the prospect—how to get and keep the buyer's good will—how to cultivate the characteristics a salesman must have. The practical application of the principles of salesmanship is further set forth in several sales talks or imaginative interviews, which are analyzed so that the student can see how theory is put into practice.

Spanish and English Commercial Vocabulary

By Carlos F. McHale, M.Ped., University and Institute of Pedagogy of Chile; Director of Instruction, The Centro Internacional de Enseñanza, Madrid; Spanish Instructor and Editor, The National City Bank of New York. 1920. 137 pages. 4¼ x 7¼. Flexible binding. $2.50.

This is not a mere list of selected words but a complete and distinctly specialized dictionary of the words and phrases used in business in Spanish- and English-speaking countries.

The author's main purpose in compiling it has been to produce an easily consulted book which should meet the need for a vocabulary of Spanish and English commercial terms. No pains have been spared to render it usable and reliable. It will prove a real help to exporters, importers, bankers, correspondents, shippers, travelers, translators, and others who have to handle legal papers, commercial documents, or telegraphic codes. It can also be used advantageously by those who are preparing themselves for work of this nature. Where commercial terms in one language have no exact equivalent in the other, the author has clearly defined and explained them. Monetary units, coins, weights, and measures, have also been given special attention. A unique feature of this book is that whenever a term has a different meaning in Spain from that which prevails in Spanish-America the distinction is explicitly indicated.

INTERNATIONAL CRITICAL COMMENTARY on the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. Under the present editorship of The Rev. FRANCIS BROWN, D. D., L. Litt., L. L. D., and the Rev. ALFRED PLUMMER, M. A., D. D., planned and for years edited by the late Prof. C. A. BRIGGS, D.D., in America, and Prof. S. R. DRIVER, D.D., and Rev. ALFRED PLUMMER, D.D. in Great Britain.

This Commentary is international and inter-confessional, and is free from polemical and ecclesiastical bias. It is based upon a thorough critical study of the original texts of the Bible, and upon critical methods of interpretation. It is designed chiefly for students and clergymen, and will be written in a compact style. Historical and Archaeological questions, as well as questions of Biblical Theology, are included in the plan of the Commentary, but not Practical or Homiletical Exegesis. The volumes constitute a uniform series.

LUTHERAN COMMENTARY, THE.

By Scholars of the Lutheran Church in the United States, under the editorial charge of HENRY EYSTER JACOBS, D.D., LL.D. Is being published after extensive correspondence and consultation between the general editor and Lutheran scholars throughout the country. It comprises twelve volumes of about 400 pages each, and incorporates the text of the revised version. The work fills an intermediate position between scientific and popular exposition. It does not enter into the discussion of critical questions, but seeks to present results. It is adapted to the wants of pastors, and is especially valuable to intelligent laymen and Sunday-school teachers. 12mo, Each, 2.50

MARIE-CLAIRE'S WORKSHOP

By MARGUERITE AUDOUX

Translated by F. S. FLINT

12mo. Cloth, Price, $2.00 net

Nearly ten years have passed since the appearance of Mlle. Audoux's "Marie-Claire," which was a great sensation in Europe and which went through edition after edition in this country. This means that the author does not write for the sake of writing but only when she has something to say. MARIE-CLAIRE'S WORKSHOP continues the story of "Marie-Claire," and is as compact of interesting material as the first novel. As a human document it is perhaps even more striking and more significant than "Marie-Claire."

INVISIBLE TIDES

By BEATRICE KEAN SEYMOUR

12mo. Cloth, Price, $2.00 net

The story of a man and a woman who are brought together by the invisible tides of circumstances. It is full of deep sympathy and an understanding of human sorrow, and is incidentally written with a literary distinction of the very rarest quality. The heroine is a thoroughly modern woman and meets all the problems of life, including the sex problem, with that bold and open spirit which characterizes many of the younger women of the post-war period.

Although a first novel it is meeting with unusual success in England where it has already passed through several editions. The English critics gave "Invisible Tides" a very enthusiastic reception. It was warmly praised by Mr. St. John Adcock and Mr. Lories J. Macquiland, while K. M. of the Athenaeum, not a critic to be easily satisfied, was most complimentary. More than one reviewer has placed Mrs. Seymour in the front rank of woman novelists.

MASTER EUSTACE

By HENRY JAMES

12mo. Cloth, Price, $2.00 net

This is the second and final volume of the early stories of James, first published in England in a three-volume collection entitled "Short Stories Review," but never before published in this country. Special Issue of 250 Copies of First Edition, Cloth, uncut, paper label, $5.00 net.

Professor William Lyon Phelps, of Yale University, in a long article in The New York Times, says;

"They [the stories] are the work of an absolute master of plot and style. . . . All four of these are love stories—stories white hot with passion. . . .

"I hope Mr. Thomas Hardy will read these tales, for even he can hardly dramatize the irony of life more powerfully than it is set forth here.

"I regard this book as a truly great addition to American literature."

N. P. D., in the New York Globe, says; "The characterizations are fresh and vivid, the dialogue is fascinating. The stories are interesting, and the story is the thing."

E. N. Teall, in The Chautauqua Weekly, says; "Many readers will give the publishers a vote of thanks for the book."

THE DARK RIVER

By SARAH GERTRUDE MILLIN

12mo. Cloth, Price, $2.00 net

A fascinating story of South Africa set in the diamond diggings in Northeast Afghanistan. There on the diggings, where humanity was as mixed as a newly-shuffled pack of cards, the author found an abundance of material for this romance that complicates the love of two in the "dark river." John Oliver, came there as a soldier but remaining to seek his fortune in the diggings, finds life not drawn up on the social lines existing elsewhere and this leads to difficulties of a peculiarly Afrikander type.

In no novel has South African life, both of the native Kaffirs and the European settlers, been presented so vividly, realistically and interestingly. "The Dark River" is an absorbing story told by one who is well acquainted with the life she depicts. It is original in its unusual situations and terse, vigorous and simple in style.

This first novel at once places Mrs. Millin among the great Englist novelists of the day.

SARAH AND HER DAUGHTER

THE GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL OF THE IMMIGRANT

By BERTHA PEARL

12mo. Cloth, $2.25 net

A tale of New York's Ghetto. It is a vast canvas of faithful character drawing, finished in the minutest detail, and shows the Ghetto family as it lives from day to day. This thing has never been done before, for it is the first sustained work of fiction in which the world of the Ghetto is set forth as a whole.

"It is a work that is noteworthy in American literature, suggesting Dickens and De Morgan, modernized and Americanized. . . . One of the most absorbing tales we have read for some time."—The New York Times.

"The author's descriptions are so true that one can't help but feel that the story is equally as true—a sort of biographical novel. . . . It is the tragedy of the great battle between life and death—poverty."—The New York Call.

SIDE ISSUES

By JEFFERY E. JEFFERY

12mo. Cloth, $1.90 net

This is a book of short stories. But every story is like a chapter in one continuous novel. It holds the reader's interest throughout and at the end leaves him with a desire for more of the same sort so that he passes eagerly from story to story as from chapter to chapter of an absorbing novel.

The style has a magnificent simplicity. The pathos reminds one of the deeply moving scenes of Dickens' novels. But the author never descends to sentimentality. He is realistic and modern even when he is most touching.

The "Side Issues" are those produced by the war, all of which are viewed from a distinctly unconventional standpoint. The book contains, inter alia, a story of a French nurse who saved the author's life in 1914 and whom he met again in 1918 after she had been for four years in occupied territory; sketches indicative of the injustices of demobilization and the post-war commissions of ex-officers; a plea for the utilization of the "public school spirit" for needs for the future; a fantasia wherein profiteers and other social types are stigmatized; and an appeal to Youth to vindicate its rights in the New Era. The items are varied, but the whole forms a balanced design.

THE BURNING SECRET

By STEFAN ZWEIG

The whole of literature contains no such exquisite, sympathetic delineation of a child in whom childhood is struggling with dawning knowledge; and never before has the theme been attempted—a child innocently and nobly figuring in an adult drama in which he is unconsciously the hero.

"It is a rare situation in fiction."—Brooklyn Daily Egale.

"The story is rich in the understanding of human actions and emotions."—William G. Fielding in the Newark Leader.

THE AUTHOR OF "WOMAN"

Magdeleine Marx

Madame Magdeleine Marx, the Parisian authoress, whose novel, "Woman," has stirred the world as hardly any book before, is a woman of unusual beauty, young, accomplished and socially charming. Even before "Woman" suddenly made her famous her society was much sought after by the greatest men and women of Europe. Among her close friends are Romain Rolland and Henri Barbusse. She has shown great talent as an essayist and a lecturer and is a constant contributor to French periodicals and journals. She is only twenty-eight years old.

Andre Chevalier, writing in La Galerie Du "Carnet," describes her personal appearance as follows:

"A lovely pale face set with two great black flames, glowing and mystic beneath penciled arched brows. Hair falling in a dark aureole around a white forehead, broad and prominent. A regular nose, energetic, clean-cut. Fine thin lips, just not prim and just not bitter, bringing out in contrast, with their vivid color, the paleness of her cheeks. A wilful chin, a straightforward gaze veiled by an obscure tenderness. A calm beauty somewhat statuesque, as though chiseled by a Phidias, a transparent milky purity, a goddess face but a human soul—profoundly, intensely human. A soul bright and sensitive, in which suffering resounds cruelly as upon a crystal which threatens to break at the least shock."

Edouard Dujardin. Professor at the Sorbonne, and himself an author of renown, concludes a long article on WOMAN with the following words, addressed personally to Magdeleine Marx:

"Magdeleine Marx, I hail you. You are a great force. The world is yours; not as acquired by force, but as reflected in the mirror of a soul. Your work will be great, great like the work of the sun, because to accomplish your work you need merely be yourself. . . . You haven't got the right not to go on."

MARGOT'S PROGRESS

By DOUGLAS GOLDRING

12mo. Cloth, $1.90 net

This is the story of a modern "Becky Sharp." The book opens with Margot, the heroine, on a steamer bound for Europe, and she herself bound to marry into the highest English aristocracy and into a fortune. How this Canadian girl, the daughter of an insignificant Canadian grocer, accomplishes her end, through sheer force of will, beauty and ability, is unfolded in the pages of this book in a novel full of wit, adventure and entertainment. It is a true picture of life, too, for MARGOT'S PROGRESS is modern and realistic in the best sense of the word.

As a piece of literature, it is quite up to the high standard of the author of "The Fortune," though it is much lighter in tone and is highly enjoyable as a pure story.

"It is narrated with sparkling humor and with Mr. Goldring's well known artistry. It is highly enjoyable reading without a dull moment from cover to cover."—New York Times.

"Douglas Goldring wrote a very promising book, "The Fortune." "Margot's Progress" more than continues that promise."—Philadelphia Press.

"Not for a long time has there appeared a story of a 'climber' so human and so humorous as Margot's Progress."—London Times.

"Margot is Mr. Goldring's triumph; every figure in the background against which she is set is alive; and Mr. Goldring's wit plays pleasantly over them all." —Westminster Gazette.

"One is reminded of Thackeray's masterpiece, 'Becky Sharp.'"—Birmingham Daily Post.

OUR GREAT WAR AND THE GREAT WAR OF THE ANCIENT GREEKS

By GILBERT MURRAY

12mo. Cloth, $1.25 net

A brilliant parallel between our Great War and the Peloponnesian War which destroyed the civilization of ancient Greece. As we read it, we wonder whether we are in ancient Athens or in modern Paris, London, or Washington. In the Athens of antiquity there were the "bitter-enders" and the pacifists, there was the denouncing of the Spartans in almost the very terms in which the Germans were denounced, there were profiteers and secret service men and everything else with which our Great War has familiarized us. And Gilbert Murray brings these to life again, so that we may draw for ourselves the lesson of history.

"Without laboring his analogy, but with the vivid insight into the spirit of the past that revitalizes it for the present, Gilbert Murray interprets the temper of the Athenian people during the Peloponnesian War, and points out the resemblances between their reaction to the conflict and that of the belligerents in the recent struggle."—The New York Evening Post.

THE CREED OF A FIGHTER

By HENRI BARBUSSE

This book contains the most important utterances of Henri Barbusse, from 1917, to the present time, on vital questions of the day. It has a more natural unity than the ordinary book—the unity that comes from an author's unconscious recording of the development of his ideas successively through three years. "The Creed of a Fighter," is the intellectual autobiography of one of the noblest and most sensitive minds of our age; and gains special significance from the fact that it was written in the most critical period of man's history. It is, as the editors say: "the eloquent confession of an honest man who always uses words in their plain meaning without mental reservation."

THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTIANITY

CHRISTIANITY AS A LABOR MOVEMENT

By KARL KAUTSKY

Late Under-Secretary of State in the Foreign Office of the Ebert-Scheidemann Government

8vo. Cloth, $1.50 net

Karl Kautsky is recognized as the greatest living historian of social and historical movements. His book on the Origin of Christianity made an immediate and profound impression when first published. It treats Christianity as, primarily, a labor movement, and its founder as a leader of the oppressed in revolt against the ruling classes. He develops his subject by the economic method of historic interpretation, and compels conclusions that are deeply impressive and deserving of most earnest consideration. The remarkable feature of this exposition is that it presents a condition of social and economic changes at that time in every way comparable to those which are taking place today. In this respect the work is fruitfully suggestive, vital and timely.

Kautsky's treatment is constructive. He rebuilds on the ground he clears, and the new structure is not only picturesque but human, natural and simple. Many of the events which in the old histories seemed quite unrelated and accidental have their interdependence revealed. The picture Kautsky paints, therefore, of the social and political life of those times is harmonious and lifelike, and the narrative is so interesting that it reads like a story.

CREATIVE REVOLUTION

A STUDY IN COMMUNIST ERGATOCRACY

By EDEN AND CEDAR PAUL

There are two labor movements, two Socialist movements. One is parliamentary and democratic in its methods, and evolutionary in its principles; the other is proletarian, sovietist and ergatocratic in its principles. There will have to be a reckoning with the revolutionary communists, whose numbers grow as their policy gains coherency and becomes more sharply differentiated from that of Socialists of the old school. The philosophy of the new movement is eloquently stated by two adepts in CREATIVE REVOLUTION, under the titles: Communist Ergatocracy, Socialism Through Social Solidarity, Socialism Through The Class Struggle, The Shop Stewards' Movement, Historical Significance of The Great War, The Russian Revolution, The Third International, The Dictatorship of the Proletariat, The Iron Law of Oligarchy, Socialism Through Parliament or Soviet, Creative Revolution, Freedom and Bibliography.

THE PASSING OF THE OLD ORDER IN EUROPE

By GREGORY ZILBOORG

Secretary to the Ministry of Labor under the Kerensky Government in Russia.

8vo. Cloth, $2.50 net

This work is the first attempt at a general survey of the forces which have brought about the downfall of the old order in Europe. It is a masterly analysis of the factors which have contributed to the decay of European institutions and a comprehensive presentation of the new order which is in process of formation.

The author demonstrates that the Russian Revolution was the logical consequence of what he ironically calls a policy of Bolshevism, which the ruling classes of Europe have pursued during the past seventy years. It was a policy for the suppression of the individual in the interests of the classes in authority.

The old science and the old thought are now bankrupt; but a new science and a new thought are emerging, and Mr. Zilboorg constructs their foundations and outlines their main tendencies.

It gives character portraits of the leaders—Lenin, Trotzky, Zinoviev, Gorky, and others. Mr. McBride writes from personal experience, for he has seen with his own eyes all that he writes about. In an appendix are given the latest important official documents of Soviet Russia, never published before, including an account of the country's financial situation.

REVELATIONS OF MONTE CARLO ROULETTE

By J. Cousins Lawrence

12mo. Paper Boards, Price, probably $1.25

The author has had an extensive experience in studying roulette playing at Monte Carlo, and the result is an accumulation of evidence supporting his accusation of unfair control on the part of the bank in the nortorious Casino. The book is a full and descriptive account of the methods of croupiers in dealing with players, and of the observation maintained by the officials over both croupiers and the players. The work is full of typical incidents, tragic and amusing, observed on the spot.

From the author's preface: "It has positively become a public duty to make known to all that roulette as played at Monte Carlo is not the game of chance it is supposed to be, but one absolutely and solely of skill. No one would play with an adversary knowing him to be a cheat, and surely if an onlooker sees that marked cards or loaded dice are being used, it is his duty to proclaim that fact and not remain a silent witness. I have seen the loaded dice."

The mediaeval atmosphere of war and strife furnishes the author an excellent vehicle for the poetic interpretation of the questions and issues that have agitated us during the war and since the cessation of the war.

PLAYS OF OLD JAPAN

Translated and Edited for Stage Presentation.

By LEO DURAN

With Colored Frontispiece.

Tall 12mo. Ornamental Boards, $2.50 net

These are plays that have been acted on the Japanese stage for centuries and continue to be acted today. No one knows who the authors were. They are folk plays, things that have grown out of the life and spirit of the people like the early ballad poetry of Europe. Their art is unconscious, primitive, elemental. They are Homeric in the simplicity, interest and naturalness of the stories they tell, yet almost faultless in construction. The intensity of the emotion is overwhelming. Each play reaches its climax in a shattering denouement. But there is a restraint that speaks of centuries of refined civilization. Like all great literature these plays are universal in their appeal, and we can understand them as readily as though they were written by an American today.

PLAYS FOR A PEOPLE'S THEATRE

12mo. Ornamental Boards, $1.25 net per volume.

WHAT ARE "PLAYS FOR A PEOPLE'S THEATRE"?

"Plays for a People's Theatre" are such plays as the people ought to have. The people ought to have the best that the genius of the world can produce. They should be good acting plays and good reading plays. And they should deal with the things that really matter to the people. The people's play-reading and play-seeing should be as much a part of their lives as their work, their business, their homes. The writers of their plays must know the people, and must reproduce in artistic, and therefore enjoyable form, their emotions, their loves, their hates, their griefs, their strivings and aspirations.

This is the important task which the promoters of these plays have set themselves. In so far as the publishers are concerned they confidently believe that this series will accomplish the end which the founders of the enterprise and the workers for it aim to achieve. It is easy for publishers to publish good plays if the authors write them. And it needs but a glance at the names of the authors who have consented to co-operate in the undertaking to be convinced that the plays will be the best that modern literature can offer.

Here are some of the names: D. H. Lawrence, Hamilton Fyfe, Shaw Desmond, Douglas Goldring. They are all English. In time, it is hoped Americans of equal distinction will join their English brethren of the pen, and make this a truly representative series of all who write in the English language.

From time to time translations of good dramas from the French, Italian Russian, and other languages, will be added.

They will be very up-to-date plays. The authors are a guarantee of that. It is mainly through the efforts of Douglas Goldring that this series has come into being, and his definition of "People" is a peculiarly modern one. The people are the workers. Not workers in the narrow sense. All people who do useful things, who contribute to society's making a living by brain or muscle, in shop, factory, office or home, are workers—all except parasites.

The title of the series—"PLAYS FOR A PEOPLE'S THEATRE"—naturally carries with it the idea that the people ought to have a chance to see these plays as well as to read them. The men who are interested in the series will do their best to carry through this idea also. But as their demands for A PEOPLE'S THEATRE are as high and exacting as their literary demands for A PEOPLE'S PLAYS, the difficulties seem to be well-nigh insurmountable, and the accomplishment very far off. In the meantime it is no small achievement to have these plays accessible in book form for reading.

WOMAN

By MAGDELEINE MARX

Translated by ADELE SELTZER

12mo. Cloth, $1.90 net.

The Novel of the New Woman

This book has sent a thrill through the world. It has stirred people like a gospel and has been received as though they had been thirsting for it.

"Woman" is being published simultaneously in almost every country. In France and elsewhere it is the subject of lectures and long essays by prominent professors. The author became a celebrity in a day. The most famous men and women, unsolicited, expressed amazed enthusiasm about this strikingly new creation and the young gifted authoress—Romain Rolland, Georg Brandes, Israel Zangwill, Bertrand Russell, Henri Barbusse, Isadora Duncan and others.

Here are extracts from what some of them say:

"This book has created a sensation in France. I have no hesitation in applying to it the words 'genius' and 'masterpiece' . . . It expresses—and this is a fact of considerable literary and moral import—what has never been exactly expressed before. It expresses Woman . . . It is a powerful, a virgin work. It ranks Magdeleine Marx among the loftiest writers of our day."—Henri Barbusse.

"It is the work of a great talent, a vigorous work."—Romain Rolland.

"An admirable book, original, profound, daring."—Georg Brandes.

"It was with deep emotion that I read this magnificent, courageous book. Here for the first time is told the truth about Woman. That gives the work importance."—Bertrand Russell.

"Your wonderful gifts as a novelist, your talent, give you a unique position in literature."—Israel Zangwill.

"The heroine is a woman and how touching a woman, how sad and attractive in her frankness, her eagerness to live, her loving, her hoping, her capacity to suffer. Yes, she's a real woman. There can't be any higher praise than that."—Michael Epuy in La Suisse Liberale.

"A grand book, yet a simple book, which stands planted like a tree and shines down like the sun."—Emanuel Buenzod in Gazette de Lausanne.

"A woman or the woman? An exceptional woman, a heroine, an individual 'case,' or a synthesis, a symbol, an abstraction and generalization? None of these, but better; the new Woman, 'the Woman of this evening.' "—Stephen Valot.

"There is an intellectual forcefulness in this book seldom to be found in works by women."—Marcelle Saltel.

"It will be my great pride to have been, at the end of my career, one of the first to salute your young glory."—Edouard Dujardin, Professor at the Sorbonne.

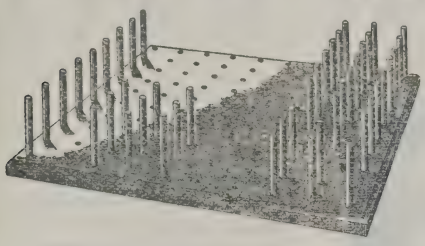
Peg Boards or Busy Work Tiles.



An occupation for younger children in the home, the kindergarten and the primary school.

The tile is a well finished square board, with holes drilled at regular intervals for holding pegs of various colors.

The pegging of lines, angles and geometrical forms, the arranging of the colors in the various combinations, and the invention of new forms and combinations give much pleasure, while affording the means of instruction to the little ones in the kindergarten and at home. In connecting and primary grades peg-boards are utilized in various ways, particularly in teaching arithmetic.

For kindergarten and school use, the boards are put up without pegs (Nos. 1732 and 1735 a) and the pegs are in boxes of 100 or 1000 each, assorted in six colors. For use in families one board with an assortment of pegs is put up in a paper box, making it complete. (Nos. 1732 a, 1733 a, 1734 a, 1735.)

Mat-Weaving.

This occupation, popular among little boys as well as girls, while entertaining, affords instruction in the elements of arithmetic. It promotes accuracy, neatness and generosity, some of the articles capable of being made from mats, such as napkin rings, needle-books, sachet-bags, cornucopias etc, making acceptable little presents for relatives and friends. It stimulates the inventive faculties and develops the sense of color harmony in the child.

No. 743. This envelope, while exceedingly reasonable in price, contains a cardboard mat with wooden strips already inserted to teach the child how the weaving is done, a patented steel weaving-needle of simple pattern, some twenty weaving-mats with the requisite fringes and a few fancy silver and gold mats, as well as illustrated instructions explaining the use of the needle and material. net $0.25 (including postage). No discount.

Chain-Making and Bead-Stringing.

No. 795. A box containing 200 strips of colored kindergarten paper for making chains, 200 straws, 54 wooden beads, 200 paper disks and squares and 6 laces for stringing. net $0.70 (including postage). No discount.

This assortment of kindergarten material provides entertaining and instructive amusement for children of four to seven years of age. The ends of the first strip are pasted together, each successive strip is past thru the preceding one and its ends joined in similar manner, forming a chain which, when draped as a garland over picture-frames, curtains etc. forms an attractive decoration.

The laces past thru the straws and paper disks or squares alternately, the paper being punctured in the center by the tab at the end of the lace, form equally attractive festoons, a fit ornament in the nursery

Stringing the wooden beads in a systematic manner with due regard for the variety in form and color, the assortment comprising red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet spheres, cylinders and cubes, affords not only any amount of entertainment, but, as the materials described above tend to develop the power of observation in the little ones by teaching them to discriminate between the several colors as well as the properties of the various forms, Frœbel's principles of learning by doing and learning while playing are practiced in these occupations.

Card-Sewing.

No. 385 h. This attractive box of easy sewing cards with blunt-pointed needles and worsted, as well as a perforating pad and needle affords instructive amusement to boys as well as girls. The perforated cards without printed designs give the little ones opportunity to develop their inventive faculty by devising an endless variety of designs. net $0.70 (including postage). No discount.

Crayon Work and Painting.

Frœbellian drawing and its sequel occupation, painting, develop neatness and precision. In attractiveness to the child this occupation is second to none.

No. 469. This box contains designs showing a short course in Frœbellian drawing, a copious supply of drawing paper ruled on both sides in quarter-inch squares, two quires of superior drawing and water-color paper, half a dozen long colored crayons and water-color paints with brushes. net $0.70 (including postage). No discount.

THE GARDENETTE: OR CITY BACK YARD GARDENING BY THE SANDWICH SYSTEM. Part I. Vegetable Garden. Part II. Flower Garden.

This volume is arranged to meet the needs of the beginner or amateur, especially for those who have limited areas that are available for the purpose.

Few realize the wonderful possibilities of a small piece of ground when cultivated to the limit of its capacity.

The Sandwich System herein described is not an idle theory, but a solid successful fact, the result of years of careful, painstaking experiment, and highly successful efforts in practical vegetable and flower gardening.

New York Sun: "This book will rouse the ambition of the city agriculturist. It is much more effective and practical than 'Back-to-the-Farm' Sermons."

Montreal Daily Mail: "It is one of the most complete treatises on the growing of vegetables and flower gardens yet issued for the beginner, and the information is so classified that anyone can become successful if they follow the instructions given."

The book contains thirty-two full-page illustrations, photographic examples of the author's experiments. Illustrated cover jacket. Handsomely bound.....Net $1 60

ANONYMOUS

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE THEATER

Precisely what the title indicates—facts as they are, plain and unmistakable without veneer of any sort. It goes directly to the heart of the whole matter. Behind the writer of it—who is one of the best known theatrical men in New York—are long years of experience. He recites what he knows, what he has seen, and his quiet, calm, authoritative account of conditions as they are is without adornment, excuse or exaggeration. It is intended to be helpful to those who want the facts, and for them it will prove of immeasurable value.

Wm. Lyon Phelps: "It is an important book and justifies its title. It ought to be read everywhere in America."

James Ford, New York Herald: "It is refreshing to read about the stage, not through the customary glamour or through the tawdry exaggeration of the press agent, but in the light of common day. No prize is offered by the publishers for the correct guess of the author's name."

APPLETON, Everard Jack.

WITH THE COLORS: SONGS OF THE AMERICAN SERVICE.

A book of virile verse dealing with the War-work of America. Poems that, in good American slang, have Punch plus Pep. Perfectly safe for anyone to read except traitors. All in all, probably one of the most noteworthy volumes of verse published this year.

Oakland Tribune: " . . . In some ways a quite remarkable collection. . . . They speak the American language, the American spirit-soldier talk in soldier days. . . . An excellent gift for a soldier or one who is close to a soldier."

APPLETON, Everard Jack.

THE QUIET COURAGE AND OTHER SONGS OF THE UNAFRAID.

One of the poems in the collection, "The Woman Who Understands," has been copied extensively both here and in England; Current Literature declared it a complementary poem to Kipling's "Vampire." Others have a ruggedness and strength that is a little unusual and wholly uplifting.

Chicago Record Herald: "This is a heartening little volume, insistent with manly faith and courage. A good book to put in the pocket, traveling satchel, and the heart."

CAMP FIRES IN THE YUKON.

In this book the author, an explorer, a hunter of big game, and a lover of the Great Out-of-Doors, takes the reader from the shut-in life of the cities to the mighty wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

Hunters of big game will revel in this journey to the greatest range of big game on the continent; lovers of animal life will find keen interest in observing and studying with Mr. Auer the habits of the wild life of the far North, while the reader who loves the Open Places of God's Great Nature will be dominated by the intimate contact with the Majesty, Might, and Beauty of the Wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

We are given a liberal supply of that practical and useful information that we need in venturing into the Silent Places, interesting alike to those who roam the untrodden trails and to those who remain at home; we are told much that we should know about the romantic and Golden North, and all in a simple, unpretentious style that comes from contact with bigness.

The remarkable and numerous photographs with which Mr. Auer illustrates his work bring us very close to the great heart of the far-off Northern Wilderness.

Deseret Evening News: "He gives liberally of that useful and practical information needed by those who venture into the silent places, and he does it in so friendly a manner as to interest not only such as may themselves roam the untrodden solitudes, but also such as follow the trails in imagination from the peacefulness of their own fireside. The book is remarkably illustrated, both as to the number and the artistic beauty of the pictures, which further help to bring the reader very close to the heart of the far-off field."

ALIEN AMERICA.

The chief purpose of this book in a phrase is to interpret the Alien to America. Its secondary purpose will be to point the fact that in somewise America has become alien to herself, alien to the ideas of Democracy, upon which our country is founded. Democracy is not a failure, any more than Christianity is a failure, because neither of them have ever had a really fair trial. Their failure is hence no more proven than their success. THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Greatest Wonderland. America's only Geyser Land.

An entirely new and revised edition with new plates and new illustrations of this remarkable classic of The Yellowstone. Ever since its discovery, more than forty years ago, the Yellowstone Park has grown in popular interest. Its natural wonders surpass anything to be found in like compass elsewhere in the world.

To these attractions have been added others in the form of wonderful mountain roads built by the Government, and a system of hotels and camping facilities which make traveling through the Park a delight quite apart from its scenic interest.

The 1920 edition of The Yellowstone is the most comprehensive book on the Park ever published. It gives a complete history of that region, as well as a full scientific description of its natural wonders. It is also an admirable Guide Book.

Bulletin of American Geographical Society: "There is practically nothing relating to the Park of interest to intelligent readers that is not treated in this volume."

SKETCHES OF GREAT PAINTERS.

This volume treats in a biographical and critical way of fifteen great painters. Among these are the pre-eminent old masters, Leonardo, Raphael, Michel Angelo, Titian, Velasquez, Rembrandt, and Rubens; then there are Murillo, Van Dyck, and Reynolds, and the modern Millet, Corot, Turner, Whistler, and Rosa Bonheur.

This book is in no sense a formal history of art, nor does it attempt that thoroughness which is sometimes akin to boredom. But no one can read these "Sketches" now graphically presenting the life and personality of the painter, and then again entertainingly describing one of his masterpieces, without absorbing much valuable information about those great masters of painting, whose art has quickened our appreciation of beauty.

The Bellman: "Here we have a book which performs the inestimable service of bringing that enlightenment which stimulates appreciation and enjoyment of great masters, this time in the field of pictorial art. . . . Pleasantly untechnical, and graphic as well as accurate, it is especially a book for laymen. . . . Illustrated with Reproductions so excellent as to merit being taken out and framed."

CLARK, Barrett H.

EUROPEAN THEORIES OF THE DRAMA.

An Anthology of Dramatic Theory and Criticism from Aristotle to the present day in a series of selected texts, with Commentaries, Biographies, and Bibliographies.

A book of paramount importance. This monumental anthology brings together for the first time the epoch-making theories and criticisms of the drama which have affected our civilization from the beginnings in Greece down to the present day. Beginning with Aristotle, each utterance on the subject has been chosen with reference to its importance and its effect on subsequent dramatic writing. The texts alone would be of great interest and value, but the author, Barrett H. Clark, has so connected each period by means of inter-chapters that his comments, taken as a whole, constitute a veritable history of dramatic criticism, in which each text bears out his statements.

Nowhere else is so important a body of doctrine on the subject of the drama to be obtained. It cannot fail to appeal to anyone who is interested in the theater, and will be indispensable to students.

The introduction to each section of the book is followed by an exhaustive bibliography; each writer whose work is represented is made the subject of a brief biography, and the entire volume is rendered doubly valuable by the index, which is worked out in great detail.

CONTEMPORARY FRENCH DRAMATISTS.

In "Contemporary French Dramatists" Mr. Barrett H. Clark, author of "The Continental Drama of Today," "The British and American Drama of Today," translator of "Four Plays of the Free Theater," and of various plays of Donnay, Hervieu, Lemaitre, Sardou, Lavedan, etc., has contributed the first collection of studies on the modern French theater. Mr. Clark takes up the chief dramatists of France beginning with the Théâtre Libre: Curel, Brieux, Hervieu, Lemaître, Lavedan, Donnay, Porto-Riche, Rostand, Bataille, Bernstein, Capus, Flers, and Caillavet. The book contains the most complete bibliography to be found anywhere.

This book gives a study of contemporary drama in France which has been more neglected than any other European country.

Boston Transcript: "Mr. Clark's method of analyzing the works of the Playwrights selected is simple and helpful. . . . As a manual for reference or story, 'Contemporary French Dramatists,' with its added bibliographical material, will serve well its purpose."

Brieux says: "Antoine . . . it was who for the first time introduced to the public a large number of dramatists hitherto unknown, many of whom it is certain would otherwise never have had a hearing. He was the first to bring Ibsen to France, and François de Curel into international renown. Antoine showed us greater and finer possibiilities in staging. . . . He reduced the number of stage conventions, he encouraged and successfully produced the works of new authors, and taught the general public to look for and appreciate dramatic work of better quality and nobler inspiration than that to which it had as a rule been accustomed."

Brander Matthews says: "The book is welcome to all students of the modern stage. It contains the fullest account of the activities of Antoine's Free Theater to be found anywhere—even in French."

DE LESSELINE, Liddell

THE TWO CROMWELLS. A Prose Tragedy, in Three Acts.

"No more coining of men's groans and tears into greatness;" thus Richard Cromwell, in Act III, Sc. 1, as he abdicates the Lord Protectorship of England.

But Philosophy and Thesis are incidental only; the drama places the wife of a condemned conspirator between the antipodal characters of Oliver and Richard, and unfolds how, upon her desperate attempt at a rescue, hinges her own destruction; the estrangement of Oliver and Richard; Oliver's death, and the emergence of Richard from licentious roistering into the empyrean of self-sacrifice and renunciation.

Salt Lake Tribune: "The work is an example of dramatic tragedy of the old school, wherein human greatness is made to succumb to overwhelming circumstances; and amid our poor imitation plays of pathology it comes as a pleasant surprise. Literary students will welcome it as a sign of the reawakening of dramatic art; and, if presented, its true picture of life is sure to please the theatergoing public."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS—Leaves from a Critic's Scrapbook. Preface by Barrett H. Clark.

A new volume of criticisms of plays and papers on acting, playmaking, and other dramatic problems, by Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic critic and author of "The American Stage of To-day," "At the New Theater and Others," "Idyl of the Twin Fires," etc. The new volume begins with plays produced as far back as 1910, and brings the record down to the current year. One section is devoted to American plays, one to foreign plays acted on our stage, one to various revivals of Shakespeare. These sections form a record of the important activities of the American theater for the past 10 years, and constitute about half of the volume. The remainder of the book is given over to various discussions of the actor's art, of play construction, of the new stagecraft, of new movements in our theater, such as the Washington Square Players, and several lighter essays in the satiric vein which characterized the author's work when he was the dramatic critic of the New York Sun.

FORAKER, Joseph Benson.

NOTES OF A BUSY LIFE.

In two volumes Mr. Foraker has sketched his experience of three years in the Union Army, three years on the Bench, four years as Governor of Ohio, and twelve years in the Senate of the United States.

He deals with many political and public events of great importance and, incidentally, with many national characters whom he met in connection therewith.

He quotes letters from Presidents Hayes, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, and Roosevelt, and from Senators Sherman and Hanna, Secretary Hay, and other distinguished Americans, which have never before been published.

He covers the Spanish-American War, the Panama Canal, and many other important subjects, closing with comments on modern developments in political methods and practices, having special reference to the Initiative, Referendum, Recall, and Primary system of making nominations, all of special interest at this time when these methods are being tested by practical experience.

The book will prove of special interest to all students of our political history, whether they are public officials or only public spirited Americans interested in the preservation of our Institutions.

Outlook: "To the reader these two volumes introduce a character worth knowing; a man of ability, independence, courage and combativeness."

STREAMCRAFT, An Angling Manual.

The author has written a volume which will be of great interest to those of the angling fraternity. It deals with the selection, care, and rigging of the rod; the art of casting; trout habits; lures and their use, including some stream entomology; the angler's flies and how to tie them, including a description of the most successful trout and bass flies. The style is always sprightly and lucid, even in the most technical parts. No other volume on American angling is so authoritative and comprehensive.

HOLDER, Charles Frederic, LL.D.
GAME FISHES OF THE WORLD.

Izaak Walton in his famous book gave an account of some of the fishing streams of England. Mr. Holder, writing with precisely the same enthusiasm for the art of angling, takes as his subject the streams, lakes, and rivers of the world. He gives a condensed account of the principal game fishes, where they are to be found, and how they are played. Inquirers frequently wish to consult a volume of this kind, giving the essentials of the up-to-date information on the subject; until Mr. Holder took up his pen the data was only to be had by consulting many different volumes, pamphlets, reports, etc. He writes with a fascinating intimacy of style. One catches the holiday spirit of his enthusiasm. He has brought together a fine collection of fish stories which he states at their face value. "Game Fishes of the World" is not only the most complete book on angling on the market, but it is also written for the angler.

JONAS, EDWARD A.

NUMBER THIRTY. Being some relation of what happened to Chivvy.

Thinking people will enjoy this unusual novel of London and Paris. Though impossible to describe in a few short sentences, those who are fortunate enough to read the book will find the plot most interesting. The characters are all very human and artfully contrasted. The author writes with definite knowledge of his people in a style that is decidedly a departure from twentieth century novels thus far. He displays a happy faculty, indeed a rare accomplishment, of opening side doors into avenues of thought that the readers may take at their pleasure.

LOVING, Pierre, and SHAY, Frank.

FIFTY CONTEMPORARY ONE-ACT PLAYS.
Compiled by Pierre Loving and Frank Shay. With an Introduction by Pierre Loving.

This volume contains fifty representative one-act plays of the modern theatre, chosen from the dramatic works of contemporary writers all over the world. Some of the countries represented are: the United States, England, Ireland, France, Belgium, Germany, Russia, Sweden, Spain, Austria-Hungary, Czecko-Slovakia, Bolivia, Italy, India, and Japan.

The editors have scrupulously sifted countless plays and have selected the best available in English.

Both Pierre Loving and Frank Shay have been connected for many years with little theatres in the United States. This has afforded them an exceptional opportunity for testing out the validity of a good many one-act plays, both as regards their literary value and dramatic possibilities in actual production.

An exhaustive bibliography will be found at the end of the volume as well as biographies of the authors.

This volume will satisfy a long-felt want for a handy collection of the choicest plays produced by the art theatre all over the world. For list of plays see last page.

MACKALL, Lawton.
SCRAMBLED EGGS.
Illustrations by OLIVER HERFORD.

There is a great deal of quackle and cackle in the world just now which might sound better in the mouths of ducks and chickens. So Lawton Mackall has put it there. Although the author of "Scrambled Eggs" would wince at the accusation of serious purpose, he has scratched below the surface in more than one paragraph and unearthed an appetizing morsel of moral and manner. Our whole modern flock is there, in this biting barnyard burlesque; Gertrude, the duckess, who thinks that wives should be the intellectual equals of their husbands, and believes in communal incubators; Martha, a plain hen, who thinks that woman's sphere is the egg; and Eustace, who cannot resist the rôle of martyr, and leaps needlessly into the maws of a mowing machine.

The Tribune, Chicago: " 'Scrambled Eggs,' by Lawton Mackall, is one of those valuable rarities, a sustained satire. It is an immensely clever bit of work, by a genial skeptic, a tolerant ironist, and a genuine humorist. The modern human comedy, in terms of the barnyard. The chances to fail in this were numerous; Mr. Mackall slips not once in his comic analogies. There is excellent characterization, with the finest literary economy. A book to give your most discerning friends.

MacMILLAN, Mary
SHORT PLAYS.

To fill a long-felt want. All have been successfully presented. Suitable for Women's Clubs, Girls' Schools, and home parlor production. Some are pure comedies, others gentle satires on women's faults and foibles. 'The Futurists,' a skit on a woman's club in the year 1882, is highly amusing. 'Entr' Act' is a charming trifle that brings two quarreling lovers together through a ridiculous private theatrical. 'The Ring' carries us gracefully back to the days of Shakespeare; and 'The Shadowed Star,' the best of the collection, is a Christmas Eve tragedy. The Star is shadowed by our thoughtless inhumanity to those who serve us and our forgetfulness of the needy. The Old Woman, gone daft, who babbles in a kind of mongrel Kiltartan, of the Shepherds, the Blessed Babe, of the Fairies, rowan berries, roses and dancing, while her daughter dies on Christmas Eve, is a splendid characterization."

MacMILLAN, Mary
MORE SHORT PLAYS.

Plays that act well may read well. Miss MacMillan's plays are good reading. Nor is literary excellence a detriment to dramatic performance. They were put on the stage before they were put into print. They differ slightly from those in the former volume. Two of them, "The Pioneers," a story of the settlement of the Ohio Valley, and "Honey," a little mountain girl cotton-mill worker, are longer. The other six, "In Mendelesia," Parts I and II, "The Dryad," "The Dress Rehearsal of Hamlet," "At the Church," and "His Second Girl," contain the spirit of humor, something of subtlety, and something of fantasy.

Oakland Tribune: "When Mary MacMillan wrote her first volume of 'Short Plays' she performed a distinct service to a large number of boarding-school and college girls who had more than once sought, in vain, for the right play in which to place dependence for the amusement of an audience and of the players. Now Miss MacMillan has written more of these dramatic little offerings, all of them bright and rippling, some symbolic and whimsical, and not one uninteresting or dull.

" 'More Short Plays' are to be read for the fun in their reading. They may be played successfully. The author has displayed a versatility that is surprising and refreshing."

THE LITTLE GOLDEN FOUNTAIN AND OTHER POEMS.

Some of these poems have appeared in "Poet Lore," "The Boston Transcript," "The International," "The Masses," "Midland," "The Club Woman's Magazine," "Men and Women," "The Smart Set," etc.

Some of them have been set to music by Louis Victor Saar, Wintter Watts, Sidney Durst, and others.

In form they run the gamut from the conventional French forms, the triolet, roundel, ballade, vilanelle, the Italian rispetti, the sonnet, blank verse, the more ordinary rhyme schemes, to the poet's own individual expression of free verse. In thought they vary, too, being concerned with philosophy, nature, description, religion, love, though love holds the dominance, as it does with poets.

SCHNITZLER, Arthur

COMEDIES OF WORDS AND OTHER PLAYS. Translated by Pierre Loving.

The contents are: "The Hour of Recognition," "Great Scenes," "The Festival of Bacchus," "His Helpmate," "Literature."

In his "Comedies of Words," Arthur Schnitzler, the great Austrian dramatist, has penetrated to newer and profounder regions of human psychology. According to Schnitzler, the keenly compelling problems of earth are: The adjustment of a man to one woman; a woman to one man; the children to their parents; the artist to life; the individual to his most cherished beliefs; and how can we accomplish this adjustment when, try as we please, there is a destiny which sweeps our little plans away like helpless chessmen from the board? Since the creation of Anatol, that delightful toy philosopher, so popular in almost every theater of the world, the great physician-dramatist has pushed on both as world-dramatist and reconnoiterer beyond the misty frontiers of man's conscious existence. He has attempted in an artistic way to get beneath what Freud calls the "Psychic Censor" which edits all our suppressed desires. Reading Schnitzler is like going to school to Life itself!

Saturday Night, Toronto: "Indeed to the reader who can enjoy the drama in printed form—and we are free to admit that not everyone can do so—this collection of plays is of piquant, thoughtful and unflagging interest."

SEX PROBLEMS OF MAN IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

This volume by Dr. Moses Scholtz, an expert on venereal diseases, is an entirely new departure in the literature of sex hygiene. It is the first attempt to present to the general public in a thoroughly scientific comprehensive way all the facts of the sex life of a man. A youth struggling for purity in his manhood will find powerful support and encouragement from a scientific viewpoint.

An unfortunate victim of venereal disease will be greatly enlightened and benefited by the wealth of information of a practical character. Next to the instinct of self-preservation, sex is the most powerful and dominating factor of human life. Its proper interpretation and control bring to man happiness and a fully developed healthy life. Its ignorance or abuse spell ruin in a destruction of body and soul.

To the possessor of worn-out land Mr. Smith offers the fruits of long experience, and he has certainly accomplished wonders. He treats exhaustively of soil, drainage, organic matter, ventilation, soil covering, etc. . . . SOMETHING MORE. Sequel to "That Something."

It is claimed by many of the readers of "That Something" that its philosophy has awakened in them a desire to succeed in a material sense, but that there must be something more than this in life, something deeper, more kindly, something of tenderness and love. And they are right. There is "Something More," and the author has striven to set forth in this sequel to his former story a happier ending to life's strivings than simple material success.

TO BE PUBLISHED SHORTLY

Fifty Contemporary One-Act Plays

Edited by Frank Shay and Pierre Loving

This volume contains FIFTY REPRESENTATIVE ONE-ACT PLAYS of the MODERN THEATRE, chosen from the dramatic works of contemporary writers all over the world.

The editors have scrupulously sifted countless plays and have selected the best available in English. One-half the plays have never before been published in book form; thirty-one are no longer available in any other edition.

Both Frank Shay and Pierre Loving have been connected for many years with little theatres in the United States. This connection has afforded them exceptional opportunities for testing the validity of a great number of one-act plays, both as regards their literary value and dramatic possibilities in actual production.

The work satisfies a long felt want for a handy collection of the choicest plays produced by the art theatres all over the world. It is a complete repertory for a little theatre; a volume for the study of the modern drama, a representative collection of the world's best short plays.

THE DOINGS OF JANE

By Sarah H. Weaver.

The most salient characteristic of this light-hearted little book is its youthfulness, and only people who are young or who have been young once should read it. The story abounds in sincerity, spontaneity and gaiety. We have had a plethora of college stories, but nothing quite like this chronicle of Jane, whose genius for getting into scrapes was counterbalanced only by a pretty talent for extricating herself.

If you wish emotional intoxication, seek elsewhere. But if you wish to frolic for a while with fun-loving, mischievous girls, then we feel certain you will enjoy this unsophisticated, effervescent story.

RACHEL

By Venus G. Booth.

The mystery of Rachel is woven in novel form, in the warp and woof of prophecy covering a cycle of six thousand years.

It is a story of a long-lost jewel, the persecution of Rachel's mother due to the loss of the jewel, Rachel's trials as a target of thieves and finally, her marriage with the man she loved. Throughout the story there hovers the spirit of that "Divine Something" that cares with a tender love for the lilies in the field and the children of the earth.

OUTBOUND AND OTHER POEMS

By Gottfried Hult.

In years to come, when the poets of the present day have been sifted by the standards of time, when the popular, but transitory appeal of oddity of style and bizarreness of technique has worn off, the real poets of the early part of the twentieth century will then take their place among the immortals. We believe that Gottfried Hult will be one of them. More mature than his "Reveries," this book is still like the earlier one, an expression of the author's constant quest for the symbols of Eternity.

AN AMERICAN NOBILITY

By William Lord Reed.

William Lord Reed has for some time been well known through his "Jumbles," which he wrote for The Pittsburg Dispatch, and through his poems which have appeared in the New York papers and elsewhere.

"AN AMERICAN NOBILITY" is a work of art and not of propaganda. Yet, amidst the music of the lines and the striking originality of the figures, there is a vigorous sincerity which you will recognize as an echo of your deepest convictions. On every page the reader finds himself involuntarily saying, "Why, this is exactly what I have been wanting to say all the time. But how wonderfully well this poet has expressed it!"

IT'S MIGHTY STRANGE

By James A. Duncan.

This book, written by one who has himself been converted, is a novel that will arouse plenty of discussion and perhaps not a little censure, for it shows how almost the entire Protestant population of a New England country town, including even the ministers, are one by one brought into the Catholic fold.

RIGHTEOUSNESS versus RELIGION

By C. E. W. Dodwell.

This book is a forceful, straight-forward presentation of the case as between the plaintiff, RIGHTEOUSNESS, or Works, and the defendant, RELIGION, or Faith.

The most striking idea in this book is to be found in the author's view of the first origin of religion, namely, that fear and ignorance constituted almost the whole rudimentary mentality of our forbears, hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of years ago. PRIMUS IN ORBE DEOS FECIT TIMOR (At first Fear created the gods in the world).

THE SONG OF LIFE AND OTHER POEMS

By Dombey.

We recommend this book especially to those who have experienced the Big Moments of Life—and who has not?—when the things which we have ordinarily considered as worth-while fade into ridiculous trivialities, and life for the flash of an instant assumes a vastness of meaning which identifies our puny selves with the Infinite.

INSIDE THE GREAT CONFLICT

By Stephen S. Parfenoff.

A dramatic satire on the Great War, depicting the plotting of the Kaiser, the attitude of the other nations, and particularly of the United States, the history of the Russian Revolution, the victory of the Allies and the defeat of the Fourteen Points, and the ultimate triumph of Liberty among the nations of the world.

This drama paves the way from selfish motive to unselfish achievement, from grasping politics to noble statesmanship, from narrow hatred to universal love.

SILVANIA AND OTHER POEMS

By George DuBois.

The author of these poems has caught for us and invested with a living reality those mysteries such as the voices of the silence, phases of life, which in the hustle and worry of our everyday existence are lost sight of and which are therefore regarded by the unthinking as non-existent, but which to the sensitive faculty of the poet are far more vivid and illuminating than the things which we see and hear.

THE MAKING OF A NATION

By Wentworth Stewart

This is a book about Americanism — not from the point of view of the academician but from the practical observer. The author maintains that it is our duty not only to naturalize aliens but to Americanize them, so that instead of being a public care they may become a national asset.

In other words, the author offers a practical solution for fusing the various elements of this country into a harmonious whole.

TWO BUBBLES

By John Temple Graves, Jr.

John Granville, Bubble Blower, is handicapped by an over-rich imagination, which makes him regard the mild, unpleasant events in his life as objects of nameless horrors. It further drives him into impracticable love affairs in which he over-idealizes his inamorata.

Then come two things from over the seas — the War and the Lady of Stars and Snow and Steel, the daughter of a foreign diplomat. These two influences redeemed the Bubble Blower for all time.

SONGS OF THE IRISH REVOLUTION

By William A. Millen

It might well be said that the spirit of Ireland never dies. This fact is emphasized in the verses that form Songs of the Irish Revolution. The spirit of Erin is irresistible! In spite of dungeon, fire, sword, famine and plague, Erin "is marching on."

Songs of the Newer Ireland, which is the sub-title of the work, brings out a different phase of the Irish psychology. The Ireland that was content with the Land Movement and Home Rule is a mere shadow. A New Ireland is astir — the Ireland that calls upon men and women of every creed to aid in building up a nation from within.

COUSIN SADIE

By Daisy Anderton

The atmosphere of a famous Ohio college town pervades this book. One catches in the clear notes of the bells an echo of what men have fought for and upheld grandly. The very sunshine is different — more placid, as if reminiscent.

"Cousin Sadie" is a woman of conflicting temperaments — the inherited instincts of a long line of Calvinists versus the bursting forth of individualism, or the will to live unhampered by morbid consideration of others. With such a striking central character the deeply interesting story may well be imagined.

It discovers that creation, through evolution and development, from infinity to infinity, from conception to perfection, is complete in itself.

The subject is viewed from a scientific standpoint, while imagery, simile and symbolism are used in the portrayal.

SPANISH MOSS AND ENGLISH MYRTLE

By Margaret Dashiell

These verses recall vividly a number of past customs now become obsolete with the march of progress. One likes to turn back occasionally to the more simple days of yore, when materialism was not so prominent. The life of New Orleans, for instance — beautifully depicted in these poems — was so unique a part of our country that it seems a pity it is passing away.

"English myrtle" is a recognition of the claims of "Mammy" — that rare personality, the guide of childhood and prop of old age—faithful unto death.

THE HISTORICAL SOURCES OF DEFOE'S JOURNAL OF THE PLAGUE YEAR

By Dr. Watson Nicholson

This is not a labored exposition of a preconceived theory; it is a lucid, though painstaking, statement of facts, supported in every instance by proofs, that Defoe's famous Journal, hitherto supposed to be fiction par-excellence, is not merely based on history — it is history. Defoe's book is now for the first time definitely proved to be, primarily, not the work of inventive genius full of fictional devices, but first, last and throughout a scrupulous relation of the outstanding, illuminating facts of the Great Plague of London.

AFTER THE DAY

By Raine Bennett

Was ever a game played that did not have its aftermath of stories? Why then should this greatest game of all, the Great War, pass without its quota of campfire reminiscences? The author of these verses has done his "bit" in this behalf by writing these "after-the-war" impressions. The verses themselves are shrapnel — taken from the wounds of soldiers; bits gathered at random from the accounts of survivors, some based on actual experience and others on hearsay, forming a volume of poetry most interesting and timely.

THE ADOPTED SON

A DRAMA

By Bertha Hurwitz

This is a historical play and in order to do away with the dryness of historical narration the author has put it in allegorical form and has incorporated the historical incidents into an interesting story.

Briefly, the play relates the progress of Judah, how he is hounded from one country to another by Prejudice, falls a victim to Hypocrisy and becomes the dupe of Assimilation, a beautiful girl. Finally, he returns to Palestine, his own mother, where no Prejudice can enter, and he attains the distinction of being able to dispense Love without Ignorance and Justice without Prejudice.

VANITAS

By Paul Eldridge

The author of these exquisite poems is a self-confessed pessimist — not one who whimpers and grumbles — but one who is thoroughly convinced by long study and meditation that life is mud, but that the sun shining upon it creates dreams and hopes. In these poems he takes these dreams and hopes and plays with them with the hands of a skillful magician. Thus he reduces gods to manikins and inflates grains of dust to the size of mountains. He takes delight in slapping Life in the face, but having done so he regrets it and pats the swollen face and soothes it. Irony and pity, therefore, are the dominating notes in these poems.

The characters in this story of Louisiana are almost epical in the grand simplicity with which they are drawn. It is one of the stories that lingers in the memory.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE WAR

CAN SCIENCE ANSWER THE RIDDLE OF THE GRAVE

By Henry Frank

INTRODUCTION BY HEREWARD CARRINGTON

The author of this work has approached the problem of "Immortality" from a view-point wholly original and unique.

Coupling the discoveries of the materialistic biologists with the latest revelations of the physical sciences, especially in the wide field of electricity, he shows how they lead naturally to an affirmation of immortality, howbeit he discards the orthodox interpretation as a theological doctrine, and seeks wholly a scientific demonstration.

The publishers are convinced that no thoughtful, studious or investigating mind in this Age can afford to ignore this elaborate work.

SHYLOCK NOT A JEW

By Maurice Packard, M. D.
edited and supplemented by Adelaide Marshall

This is an impassioned argument against the misconception of the Jewish character at the time of Shakespeare. It is not generally known that the so-called "Golden Rule" was also disseminated by the Jew Hillel who said, "Whatever is displeasing unto thee do not unto others: this is the foundation of Judaism." Accordingly Shakespeare's Shylock is shown in this book to be a caricature rather than a true picture of the Jewish nation.

By Simon Augustine Blackmore, S. J., Professor of Philosophy and Literature, Campion College

A new and tremendously illuminating interpretation of Hamlet.

The New York Times writes: "Professor Blackmore shows not only the critic's insight, but the historian's vision. . . . His criticism will be of considerable assistance to those readers whose appreciation of the greatest plays in our language is as yet formal rather than genuine."

For lucidity of expression, beauty of style and soundness of criticism, you will find that the book has few equals.

PSYCHIC PHENOMENA, SCIENCE AND IMMORTALITY

(A SEQUEL TO "MODERN LIGHT ON IMMORTALITY")

BY HENRY FRANK

ONE year after the publication of Modern Light on Immortality the author fulfilled his promise to publish another volume setting forth his deductions from so-called psychic phenomena, bearing on the problem of immortality. This work proved to be even more of a storm centre than the former work, and equally as popular.

Sir Oliver Lodge, while not conceding the author's deductions, admitted their ingenuity and suggestiveness.

This work is now in its second edition and enlarged.

Nearly 600 pages. Price, $2.50 postpaid.

RAPIDS AND STILL WATER

BY RUTGERS REMSEN COLES

THIS book contains a number of sonnets which Mr. Coles spent some years in perfecting. The result is a form which is stately in its dignity and yet most flexible in the freedom of its movement. In addition to these sonnets, there are a number of narrative poems instinct with color and motion, and a highly interesting translation of a Greek poem in hexameter, — a meter most difficult to write in English and quite successfully handled in this book.

Among the fifty-six grand operas, the stories of which are included in this book, are the most important of the old favorites, and the most notable successes of recent seasons.

As they are the operas chosen by popular interest, the collection has a wide range in character, varying from lyric comedy to epic tragedy.

With each opera is given interesting and carefully verified data. The name of the composer and the date of the first production serve to place the opera in the line of artistic succession. The full list of the characters, together with their singing parts, is also included.

The Study and Enjoyment of Pictures

By

Gertrude Richardson Brigham, A.M., Ph.D.

Instructor in Art, George Washington University.

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.50

A popular Guide to Pictures, resulting from the author's extended travel, teaching, and European study.

This book offers perhaps the widest range of subjects connected with pictures yet assembled in a single volume. It is written both for the general reader and the student.

It includes a résumé of art principles, a brief history of schools of painting, and a practical guide to pictures in Europe and America. Besides covering the text of picture study in advanced schools and colleges, the book suggests many other phases of review in Literature and History, the added use of which in an art course is optional with the teacher.

It is illustrated with artistic prints from works of the best masters, and contains a helpful Bibliography and a thorough index.

"Miss Brigham is thoroughly grounded in the principles of appreciation of art and knows her painting schools besides. As a practical guide to pictures to be seen in Europe and America—especially those in Boston, New York, Washington, Detroit and other American cities, giving equal value to modern schools of painting with the older schools, it is a unique compendium, and a very handy, because condensed, manual of the permanently best in picture shows."—The Boston Evening Transcript.

One Thousand Literary Questions and Answers

By MARY E. KRAMER

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, $1.50

A thousand of the questions that come from time to time into the mind of almost every reader of general literature are asked and answered in this book. The questions are stated as briefly as they arise in conversation,—now a detached name of some character or book or author, again a line of poetry or the first words of some saying that has clung to memory quite unassociated with a name. The questions touch all periods and phases of English and American literature up to the present day, and are such as may reasonably be asked of any intelligent reader. Dramatic circumstances are noted, many obscure yet valuable facts are brought to light, illuminating connections made, and matters of salient interest pointed out.

"A worth while volume for the instruction of the general reader, full of data relating to literature of many sorts and answering some of those puzzling inquiries with which the 'Want to know, you know' puzzle newspaper people."—Detroit Free Press.

"We can do no better than say what the publishers say about the work and to add that they do not misstate or overstate any feature of the book."—Journal of Education.

Handbook of Journalism

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

Each 12mo, bound in cloth . net, $1.25

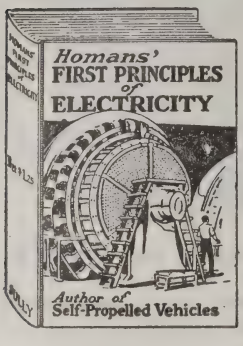
This is probably the first work of its class entirely devoid of theory and generality. The author is an experienced ex-journalist, who has experienced every kind of newspaper work from the setting of type to the editing of a daily paper. What he has to say comes first-hand to the reader, and as the result of actual experience with conditions. The book will be of untold value, not only to the newspaper men, but to those who would enter the profession, either as country editors, or as beginners on great metropolitan dailies.

"Altogether it is a capital book for the purpose."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"This is a sensible book of practical information of great value not only to newspaper men, but to those who have ambition toward newspaper work."—The Watchword.

Practical Arts and Sciences

Homans' First Principles of Electricity



By J. E. HOMANS

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.50

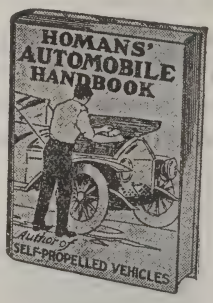
As either a primer of electrical science, or as a handbook of fundamental principles that would be appreciated by an advanced worker, this little book is in a class by itself. The author starts with the assumption that the reader, although, perhaps, unlearned in the science of electrics, really desires the information that one would expect in a book with such a title. He undertakes, therefore, to treat of the principles of the science, from the ground up, passing in review all the matters necessary to constitute a fundamental knowledge of all forms of electric current, with singularly lucid explanations of obscure points.

Homans' Automobile Handbook



By J. E. HOMANS

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.50

This book is a wonderfully complete summary, within the limits of a volume of moderate size, of the principles of construction and operation of a gasolene motor car and engine. Like other books produced by its author, it is distinctly readable, and characterized by lucid and thorough explanations of matters unfamiliar to the average reader. Few books that have appeared of late are better calculated to inform, also to interest, while imparting information.

"A handy book for any owner who looks after his own machine."—New York World.

"No finer book to study on wet days in the garage, or to have on hand in case of difficulties."—Montreal Weekly Herald and Star.

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, $1.25

This book contains about a hundred articles, which appeared in the leading newspapers of the United States and Canada, and were read by millions. They attracted world-wide attention, and were acknowledged to be the best inspirational "short talks" ever written.

"There is a good deal of Benjamin Franklin's epigrammatic snappiness and common "horse sense" about Mr. Fowler's aid to "intelligence."—Boston Transcript.

"If you know of a young man who does not have confidence in his own abilities give him this little book and ask him to read it. The advice it contains should change his life for the better and make a real man of him."—The Portland Oregonian.

How to Succeed

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, $1.25

The articles comprised in this publication are in no sense duplicates of those contained in "Getting a Start." They are written with all of Mr. Fowler's usual keen insight and common sense, and they cannot fail to be of assistance, not only to young people just entering business life, but also to experienced travelers along the same road.

"Like all good advice all that is needed here is the disposition to take and use these suggestions."—The Detroit Free Press.

Grasping Opportunity

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

12mo. Cloth. A companion volume to "Getting a Start" and "Beginning Right." . . . . . net, $1.25

"Grasping Opportunity" is the Laboratory of Business in book form. It contains a large number of dialogues, covering every phase of clerical work, and each character acts his part as is done in the counting-room and office.

The book shows what business actually is, what the employee should do to better his condition, to gain promotion, to receive an increase of salary. It is a composite affair, presenting the best ideas not only of the author but of eminent business men and their associates. It not only tells one how to achieve success in business, but warns the reader of the many pitfalls which are likely to work to his detriment.

It is a volume for anyone, man or woman, boy or girl, earning from a few dollars a week to several thousand a year.

"An exceedingly practical volume of helpful hints which should be of great aid to the man who wants to succeed in his business."—Boston Globe.

"It is a book which each young man and woman should read and endeavor to follow."

The Art of Speech Making

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

12mo. Cloth. . . . . Net, $1.00

This book, like all of Mr. Fowler's works, is intensely practical. He deals with facts and information, not with theories. He analyzes every form of speech or address, from the oration of the great statesmen to the everyday "remarks" of after-dinner speakers and others who address the public formally or informally. He gets down to the very bottom of speechmaking, and gives information which has not been printed in any book, and which can not be obtained in any other way.

"An excellent book for the man who doesn't know how to make a speech and wants to know."—North Carolina Education.

The Art of Letter Writing

By Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr.

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, $1.00

"The Art of Letter Writing" is not an old-fashioned collection of stilted forms of epistles for all occasions, but is a series of instructions as to titles, addresses and all the details of preparing letters, with directions as to letters of especial character, as those of condolence, congratulation, of introduction, etc. Outline forms of letters applying for a position are given among others. Signs, Omens and Superstitions

By ASTRA CIELO, author of "Fortune and Dreams."

12mo. Cloth. . . . . net, $1.00

There are few persons no matter how rational or evel-headed who are given to superstition in some form, With some there is a deep-seated belief that evil will result from a ninfraction of a rule. With others an amused idea that if a ceremony does no good it can do no harm, and so to be on the safe side they carry out Some Mummery.

It is the object of this book to review the subject of superstition without prejudice or condemnation, but to present the data and explain their origin wherever possible, leaving it to the reader to reject such beliefs as seem absurd and irreconcilable with modern culture.

By ASTRA CIELO

12mo. Cloth. . . . . net, $1.00

A practical manual of fortune telling, divination and the interpretation of dreams, signs and omens.

This book has been compiled for the use of intelligent people who desire to know the various ways in which events have been prophesied by occultists the world over, and who wish to test their own faculties and consult the "Book of Fate" in their own behalf. The various methods and tables are offered to the reader at their own value, without any special claim for their accuracy or efficacy. Each inquirer must determine for himself in how far he may trust the oracle that he has consulted. Some of the material is new and is not to be found in modern books of this nature. Most of the tables have been gleaned from very old authorities.

"It has the merit of not spinning insubstantial theories on untested evidence . . . it treats the subject in a sensible manner."—London Times.

"With a bright and occasionally humorous touch our author deals with the whole subject of dreams, and gives us a good working theory to account for them."—Western Mail.

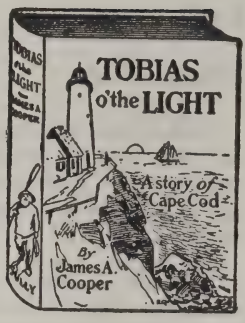
Tobias o' the Light



By JAMES A. COOPER

12mo, cloth wrapper in color, and four illustrations . . . . . net, $1.75

Another of Mr. Cooper's matchless Cape Cod stories, filled with the tang of the salt air and the booming of the surf along the shore.

Old Cap'n Tobias, the keeper of the lighthouse, is a truly lovable character and his efforts at match-making bring forth first smiles, then chuckles and finally, wild bursts of laughter. "I did it fer the best," he says, but the best was something awful. The Captain has a good foil in Heppy, the elder sister who keeps house for him.

The young folks—who were in love with each other and didn't know it—are well drawn, and so is the rascal who came close to wrecking their happiness.

This story, we feel certain, will make Mr. Cooper more popular than ever, with an ever-increasing host of readers.

But before this end one is privileged to meet the inimitable "house detective," and the mirth-provoking "Mrs. Judson" and to watch Ryder, the Wall Street magnate, corner the lamp and oil-stove market. Phoebe

By ELEANOR GATES, author of "The Poor Little Rich Girl," "Apron Strings," etc.

Full Colored Wrapper by Clarence Underwood

In this her latest novel, Eleanor Gates presents a heroine who is such an altogether charmingly quaint and wistful young person that readers of all ages will take "Phoebe" to their hearts. The story shows how startlingly the new generation differs from the older in some important and unexpected ways; it shows, too, certain fresh problems that touch upon the youth of our American cities, and how "society," the law, and the church clash—even amusingly—in considering, or in failing to consider these same problems—which have to do with every-day, "polite" family life. The book is full of laughter and tears, of unexpected twists, and delicious whimsicalities.

And then—and this is unusual in a detective story—there is some real humor, the trail of Spotty, who was willing to confess to anything.

FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AT BROOKSIDE FARM.

Mother called them her Four Little Blossoms, but Daddy Blossom called them Bobby, Meg and the twins. The twins, Twaddles and Dot, were a comical pair and always getting into mischief. The children had heaps of fun around the big farm, and had several real adventures in the bargain.

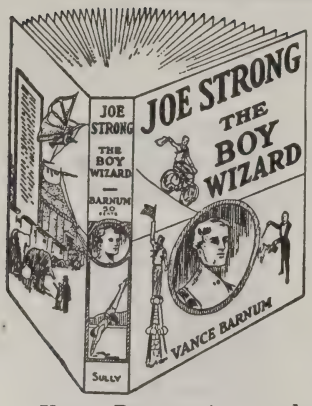
FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AT OAK HILL SCHOOL.

In the Fall, Bobby and Meg had to go to school. It was good fun, for Miss Mason was a kind teacher. Then the twins insisted on going to school, too, and their appearance quite upset the class. And in school something very odd happened and all the boys and girls wondered what it meant.

FOUR LITTLE BLOSSOMS AND THEIR WINTER FUN.

Winter came and with it lots of ice and snow, and oh! what fun the Blossoms had skating and sledding. And once Bobby and Meg went on an errand and got lost in a sudden snowstorm. And once Twaddles slipped through a hole in the ice, but the others went quickly to the rescue.

JUVENILES



Joe Strong Series

By VANCE BARNUM

Seven Titles—Illustrated and bound in decorated cloth, each book with a beautiful colored wrapper . . . Each, 80 cents

Vance Barnum is a real treasure when it comes to telling about how magicians do their weird tricks, how the circus acrobats pull off their various stunts, how the "fishman" remains under water so long, how the mid-air performers loop the loop and how the slack-wire fellow keeps from tumbling. He has been through it all and he writes freely for the boys from his vast experience. They are real stories bound to hold their audiences breathless.

The hero of this series is a remarkable young fellow. He has a superb form physically, a keen eye and limitless nerve. He became a magician, an acrobat, a high diver and boy fish, looped the loop in the air on a motorcycle and made a sensation by his "dive for life" from one flying machine to another. He was a marvellous shot with pistol and rifle, hitting bull's eye while swinging on a trapeze and while on a tight rope.

   or Mysteries of Magic Exposed.

2. JOE STRONG ON THE TRAPEZE, or The Daring Feats of a Young Circus Performer.

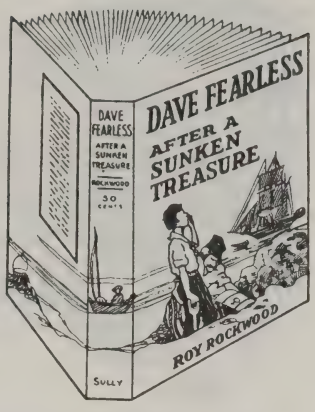
Dave Fearless Series

By Roy Rockwood

12mo, cloth, illustrated and with beautiful colored wrapper . . . . Each, 80 cents



1. DAVE FEARLESS AFTER A SUNKEN TREASURE, or The Rival Ocean Divers.

A search for a hidden treasure is certain to be a fascinating one, and when that treasure is located at the bottom of the Pacific Ocean the quest for it is bound to become more or less perilous. Written primarily to interest young people, but a story which is bound to reveal to them many of the marvels of deep-sea life. A new government diving-bell plays an important part in the narrative.

2. DAVE FEARLESS ON A FLOATING ISLAND, or The Cruise of the Treasure Ship.

With the million-dollar treasure in their possession, father and son, with their old friend, Captain Breadbeam, set sail for home. But their unscrupulous rivals followed them and did their best to rob them. A landing was made on a strange island, and to the amazement of all was found to be a floating stretch of land thickly covered with vegetation. One surprise followed another, all making a story well worth the telling.

3. DAVE FEARLESS AND THE CAVE OF MYSTERY, or Adrift on the Pacific.

A story of adventures in little-known parts of the mighty Pacific Ocean. The treasure seekers, with their treasure, find themselves cast away on an island infested with savages ruled over for years by a quaint Irishman. The King, as he calls himself, tried to befriend the others and this calls down the wrath of the savage horde, and the Americans have to flee for their lives. There are many thrilling encounters in the wilds and many hairbreadth escapes. A story young and old alike will read with pleasure.

THE BOOKS THAT ARE TIMELY AT ALL TIMES

The book seller does not have to lie awake at night worrying whether or not these books will sell HE KNOWS THEY WILL, just as surely as the grocer KNOWS that the sugar and flour in his sto are going to be carried away by anxious customers.

The book seller has this advantage, however, that he will make a greater profit than the grocer d from his staples, because we have always been fair with the book trade and given them a living discou sufficient to enable them to have a good margin above their overhead expenses.

JUST DISPLAY THEM—Keep them where the anxious eyes of the customers may see them a they will be constantly moving out of that book shop as if they had wings.

These good people, known everywhere and their work known by nearly everybody, write words of warmest praise for them:

Judge Ben B. Lindsey	Mrs. Margaret Warner Morley	Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon
Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst	Rear Admiral John W. Philip	Rev. Russell H. Conwell
Pres. W. H. P. Faunce	Father H. A. Chouinard	Dr. Francis E. Clark

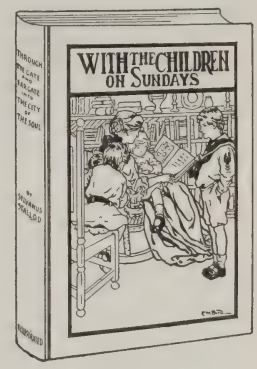
A JUVENILE WITH A MESSAGE

With the Children on Sundays

BY SYLVANUS STALL, D.D.

135 LINE DRAWINGS, 8 FULL PAGE COLOR ILLUSTRATIONS BY MISS C. N. BURD

Large quarto volume, size 9½ x 7. Full cloth. Price, $1.75 net.



The author's avowed object is to render Sunday a delight- time without in any way detracting from the sacredness of day. Realizing that the normal child mind is the same on ry day of the week, he introduces the idea of "Playing urch." The little ones drive to Church with chairs for horses. ey act as ushers for their parents, their dollies and imaginary litors. A regular service is conducted. The children them- ves do some of the preaching, and at the close of the service chapter from "With the Children on Sundays" is read. estions are asked concerning the lessons taught, and at the nclusion the children and their parents take the imaginary e back to their home.

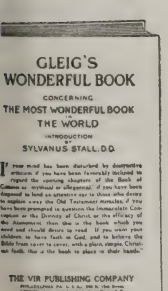
In addition to this there are many Old Testament scenes ich are enacted: The boy behind the sofa is Joseph in the Pit; the boy looking ough the slats of the chairs which are placed around him is Daniel in the Lion's n, and so on. The entire book is new in the direction which it takes, and there ver has been any book like it. Each of the 52 object sermons has a number of illustra- ns, and the full color page pictures and the half tone illustrations make the book eedingly attractive. The chapters are all so interesting in this volume that one uld scarcely speak of them as studies, but rather as illuminating conversations with young. Those who have much teaching to do, and often find their lessons fall t and are stale and unprofitable, will find it full of suggestions, bright and stimulating.

Gleig's Wonderful Book Concerning the Most Wonderful Book in the World

BY REV. GEORGE ROBERT GLEIG, M.A.

WITH INTRODUCTION BY SYLVANUS STALL, D.D.

711 Pages. $2.00 net.



This book was written upon the theory that the Bible is all true or it is not true at all. It presents the Bible as a whole, and in such a manner as to unify and centralize the 66 books, giving the reader that unity and comprehensiveness of view which the Bible student needs in order to make effective his reading and study of the Bible itself, and it does two very important things; First, it creates an atmosphere in which doubt and unbelief cannot live; second, at the end of each chapter it answers the questions concerning the Bible suggested by Satan to the mind of every intelligent Bible reader.

In this book, Rev. Gleig follows the Bible narrative, dealing with the principal nts and incidents from Genesis to Revelation. The author has a charm of style d diction which distinguishes him as among the best of writers.

Winston's New and Complete ATLAS OF THE WORLD

With New Maps of Europe; of Canada and its Provinces; of the United States, its Forty-eight States, its Territories and Insular Possessions and Maps of the Whole World with Boundaries as Established by the Treaties of Peace following the World War :: :: :: :: ::

THE WORLD RE-MAPPED

When the Treaties of Peace were signed following the World War, a new world figuratively was created as far as an Atlas is concerned. Marked changes have been made in three continents—in the Islands of the Pacific, millions of square miles of territory have changed hands; new nations have been born; boundary lines have been redrawn, and even in our own country, names of towns have also been changed. It will, therefore, be seen that any Atlas previously published is practically obsolete and that a new Atlas containing changes in the maps of every portion of the globe is absolutely necessary.

This New Atlas, the Handy Book with the Big Maps, shows Every Country of the World with Boundaries as Established by the Provisions of the Treaties of Peace following the World War :: ::

With New Maps of France, Africa, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, and all other countries affected by the War, as well as complete maps of our own country.

The maps embody the very latest idea in map-making. Their accuracy is fully established by the fact that they were engraved under the personal supervision of L. L. POATES, whose reputation as cartographer is known to educators the world over and whose services are sought by leading technical institutions and societies and by the Government in the making of maps in which clear definition and accuracy of detail are essential.

The Last Word in Map Making

Complete work comprises 224 pages, 192 pages of which are maps printed in five and six colors. It is printed on sturdy supercalendered paper and bound in the following styles:

Cloth, ink stamping	$3.00
Extra Cloth, gold and ink stamping	3.50
Flexible French Morocco, round corners, red edges	4.50

FEATURES THAT MAKE THIS ATLAS INDISPENSABLE IN HOME, SCHOOL AND OFFICE

192 Pages of Maps are comprised in this Atlas. Besides new maps of the nations of Europe and other countries of the world, it contains a map of Canada, separate maps of the Provinces, map of the United States, separate maps of each state, territory and insular possession.

The Maps are Printed in Five and Six Colors of Ink instead of three colors—yellow, red and blue—as ordinarily employed.

The Locations of Towns, Rivers, Mountains and Boundaries are clearly Defined instead of the confused form of other Atlases.

Railroads are represented by a thin line of Red Ink, thereby clearly defining them. In other Atlases, railroads are printed in black ink which makes it difficult to distinguish them from river and boundary lines.

Mountain Ranges shown in Brown Ink, making it easier to distinguish the towns than if printed in black ink.

The Maps are $8\frac{1}{2}$ x $10\frac{3}{4}$ inches in size.

The handy size of the volume fits it for a bookcase and the library table; it can be carried in a grip which opens a wide use for an Atlas for business men and travelers. The Atlas closed measures only 7 x $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches. A full size map, such as is found in an Atlas that measures twice the size, is presented in the open book which measures 14 x $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

A Gazetteer of the countries, of leading cities of the world, with their locations on the maps.

TRENCH BALLADS AND OTHER VERSES

This book has been divided into three distinct parts: Trench Ballads consisting of forty American soldier Poems, based entirely on actual facts and incidents, almost exclusively of the author's own personal experiences and observations while serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France—Pre-War Poems consisting of three sets of verses written just before the active entering of America in the World War, and appertaining to, but not an integral part of it, and therefore grouped separately—other poems containing those of a general and non-military character. These poems, with few exceptions were all written in France; in fact many were scribbled on odd pieces of paper by the author while in the trenches. THE LIFE OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT with an introduction by William Howard Taft, Ex-President of the United States.

This book, written by one who was associated with him for many years, tells the whole thrilling story of his wonderfully versatile, life of his boyhood and early life, of how he became a leader of the New York Assembly at twenty-four, a candidate for Mayor of New York at twenty-eight, Civil Service Commissioner at thirty-one, Police Commissioner of New York at thirty-seven, Assistant Secretary of the Navy at thirty-nine, and Army Colonel at forty, Governor of New York at forty-one, Vice-President at forty-two, and President of the United States at forty-three, the youngest man who ever filled that office. It tells of how he hunted big game in the United States, in Africa and in South America. It tells of how he organized the Rough Riders, and LED THE CHARGE OF SAN JUAN HILL. It tells of how he settled the Great Coal Strike, of how he made the Panama Canal possible, of how, during the World War, in the greatest crisis in our country's history, he has held up the Torch of Americanism as did no other man. HISTORY OF THE WORLD WAR—PEACE EDITION

A complete and authentic narrative, illustrated with official war pictures of the American, Canadian, British, French and Italian Governments. Including the Treaty of Peace and League of Nations Covenant.

In the foreword of this book the Author says: "Two ideals have been before us in the preparation of this necessary work. These are simplicity and thoroughness. It is of no avail to describe the greatest of human events if the description is so confused that the reader loses interest. Thoroughness is an historical essential beyond price. So it is that official documents prepared in many instances upon the field of battle and others taken from the files of the governments at war, are the basis of this work. Maps and photographs of unusual clearness and high authenticity illuminate the text. All that have gone into war making, into the regeneration of the world, are herein set forth with historical particularity.

The Book comprises 800 octavo pages (size 6⅞ x 9½ inches), over 200 illustrations, including portraits, maps, etc. Handsomely Bound in Cloth with Title Stamped on Side and back in Gold. Price.....Net $3.50

Nearing, Scott, Ph.D.

POVERTY AND RICHES: A STUDY OF THE INDUSTRIAL REGIME

Scott Nearing undertakes to tell why the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer; he points out how the vast wealth produced in this country is controlled, and claims that the heaven of the rich is founded on the hell of the poor. He points out a cure for the rising cost of living; he demands that honest, industrious men be spared the exhausted faces of their women and the sobs of their under-fed children.

A great book, built with science and conscience; packed with sympathy for the poor; crowded with facts, explanations and arguments that will arouse the interest of every lover of social justice. Illustrated with numerous photographs of actual conditions among both rich and poor, and other stirring pictures by celebrated artists. 293 pages. Cloth. Illustrated. Price.....Net $1.25

ANTHRACITE: AN INSTANCE OF NATURAL-RESOURCE MONOPOLY

Dr. Nearing uses the private ownership of the anthracite coal fields to show the way in which consumers and workers may expect to fare at the hands of other monopolies of natural resources. He shows that the price of coal is not based on the cost of production, but on the monopolistic principle of charging "all the traffic will bear;" he shows that the miners receive scarcely living wages, many of them less than that, while on the other hand the mine-owners pocket enormous profits; and draws the conclusion that no one can have an interest in the continuance of the private ownership of natural resources except the private owners themselves—with the consumers footing the bill. The book is an incisive, stimulating analysis of a problem that is vital to every man, woman and child in the country. 251 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

Pennypacker, Samuel W., former Governor of Pennsylvania

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PENNSYLVANIAN UNALTERED UNEXPURGATED UNEDITED

Probably no writer dealing with public affairs and public men, since the publication of the famous "Pepys' Diary" has exercised so much freedom and intimate knowledge in commenting upon men and events. But while there may be special interest in the blunt references to nearly every man connected with the public life of Pennsylvania for the last fifty years, the value of the book as an important contribution to the literature of the State lies in the fact that Governor Pennypacker was perhaps the greatest student and chief exponent of Pennsylvania history. He himself says that he was the first to insistently call attention to the importance of the State of Pennsylvania in American life. Cloth, gilt top, 560 pages, illustrated. Price.....Net $4.00

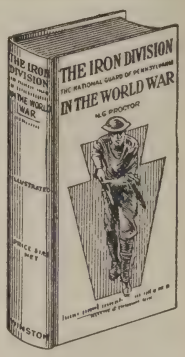
THE IRON DIVISION IN THE WORLD WAR (The National Guard of Pennsylvania)



In every great war there has been an Iron Division or an Iron Brigade. Troops won the title by unusual and conspicuous gallantry on the field of battle. In this narrative is set forth in a straightforward manner WHY and HOW The National Guard of Pennsylvania emerged from the WORLD WAR known far and wide as THE IRON DIVISION.

In this book anecdotes and stories, incidents included in official reports, statements and letters of active participants in the various battles, reports of competent, capable eyewitnesses, men apart from battles who were paid to see and write what they saw, are woven into a comprehensive, intelligent, stirring narrative. It is replete with personal incidents, with the names of Pennsylvania heroes, the names of their units and the localities from which they came.

It is written by a man who for fifteen years has followed closely the fortunes of the Old National Guard, himself served in one of the regiments, knows the mind and heart of the typical average guardsman and counts his friends and acquaintances among the commissioned and enlisted personnel by the hundreds. Many of these friendships of long standing have been ruthlessly severed by the war and there is more than sympathy and understanding and deep appreciation in the handling of this history.

HUNTING IN THE ARCTIC AND ALASKA

New Printing. This is the story of a summer cruise down the Yukon River, through Bering Strait to Herald Island and Northeastern Siberia, and by Bering Sea to the Alaska and Kenai Peninsulas. The book is of particular interest, because Mr. Scull's party was the first one successfully to accomplish a hunting trip into this part of the Arctic. Mr. Scull tells the story of a big game hunt, of which the trophies include specimens of practically all the game to be met with in Alaska, the western Arctic Ocean, and the shores of Siberia. The tales of adventures which befell the party, and Mr. Scull's personal impressions of the important places in the interior and around the coast of Alaska, add greatly to the book. Crown octavo. 304 pages. 136 illustrations and 11 new maps. Price.....Net $3.00

THE CRY FOR JUSTICE (Workers' Edition)

An Anthology of the Literature of Social Protest, collected from twenty-five languages, covering a period of five thousand years, with an introduction by Jack London. We believe this is one of the most interesting books ever published. It is an attempt to cover the whole field of the literature of social protest, both in prose and poetry, and from all languages and times. It is a Gospel of the new hope of the race. It is in no way a propaganda, but appeals to the growing sense of social justice in industry, in politics, and in every walk of life. The illustrations repeat in the field of art what has been done in the field of literature. A volume which is unique of its kind, this anthology forms an invaluable work of reference and general interest to the great body of readers who are concerned with social problems. 950 pages, 6½ x 9 inches. Illustrated. Cloth; gold side and back titles. Price.....Net $2.00

Stone, William A., Former Governor of Pennsylvania

THE TALE OF A PLAIN MAN

In what is, perhaps, the most unique autobiography ever written by a Pennsylvanian, former Governor William A. Stone has set down the record of a long and useful life, filled with noteworthy accomplishments. His friendships were with the illustrious as well as with the common people. He was in the center of the political whirlpool; and his story—unusual in its philosophy and inimitable in its style of telling—throws new light on many of the happenings of the past three decades.

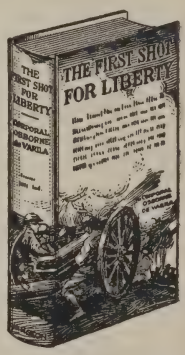
De Varila, Corporal Osborne

THE FIRST SHOT FOR LIBERTY



Corporal de Varila, the red-headed Irish-American, who fired the first shot for America in the World War, comes from a heroic family that participated in all our wars from the Revolution down. His book is a human document of a lad who left a preparatory school to be among the first to serve his country and has done so. With many thrills and frequent flashes of humor, he tells the story from the time of his enlistment in PERSHING'S ARMY, to his going aboard ship; of the passage across, with its dangers, together with its humorous incidents; the remarkable and tear-bringing reception by the French people; the training of our forces in France; life in the trenches and daring deeds of our boys on the firing line; the experience of being gassed and life in the hospitals. It is the experience that many of our boys "over there" have had.

AS IT IS IN HEAVEN, or My First Glimpses of the Heavenly Home

Many books, philosophical, fanciful, religious, scientific, have been written on this theme, but none that has the peculiar charm of this. It is largely a record of experience. Every incident recorded in it of the earth-life is absolutely true. The author is the wife of a Christian minister, and the book was written after her earthly home had been desolated by death, again and again. As with tearful eyes she looked above, to the unseen things which are eternal, her soul seemed to catch glimpses of the home to which her loved ones had gone. It is deeply religious, and though it contains ideas not mentioned in the Bible, it holds nothing contrary to its teachings. Bound in Cloth, 400 pages, 12mo. Price..... Net $1.50

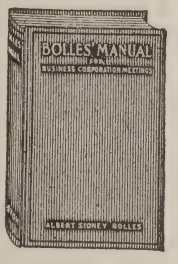
Bolles, Albert Sidney, Ph.D., LL.D. Author Modern Law of Banking, Banks and Their Depositors, Bank Officers. Formerly Professor of Commercial Law and Banking at the University of Pennsylvania. For 20 years editor of the Bankers' Magazine.

BOLLES' MANUAL FOR BUSINESS CORPORATION MEETINGS

Founded on the judicial interpretation of the rules of parliamentary law, applicable to all the states of the Union and to Canada.



This work covers a field not within the scope of any other parliamentary manual. It contains a full legal exposition of all matters of parliamentary practice by all the courts of last resort in the United States and Canada, as well as all the decisions of the courts of Great Britain deemed applicable to the subject. In the ordinary parliamentary manual, very little attention is given to the time and place of the meetings of associations, yet these matters have been the subject of much judicial inquiry and decision. What meetings, if any, can a business corporation hold outside the state of its incorporation is a live question, asked constantly, but to which no answer can be found in parliamentary manuals. The qualifications and duties of inspectors of elections are of growing complexity and importance. Likewise, the mode of holding meetings, the selection and duties of the chairman, the rule of the majority, the right of discussion at meetings, the rights of absentees, and how their absence affects the legality of a meeting's proceedings. Who can vote, is another question with many applications, to trustees, executors, option holders, corporations, pledgors and pledgees of stock, etc. Much of the voting nowadays is done by proxies. Many questions have arisen concerning them, all of which are answered in this book. There is a chapter also on voting, the rights of corporations to vote, and all the judicial decisions relating to cumulative voting. Voting agreements have been the subject of frequent judicial inquiry. The courts have greatly modified their earlier views, and the present state of the law is here fully set forth. Beside these matters, many others, pertaining to elections, by-laws, remedies for impending improper action, or for acts unlawfully done, keeping of the minutes, etc., render this a needful book to every business corporation. 16mo. 518 pages.

Clear and Easily Understood Definitions

Other dictionaries of like purpose have been made by condensing larger works. This plan resulted in definitions which are harder to understand than those of a larger dictionary. For example, you find that contagion is "transmission of disease," but fail to get the idea unless you know the meaning of transmission. If you look at the word "contagious," you find that it is "communicable or spreading by contagion." If you are industrious enough to look up transmission, you find that it is "the act of transmitting; state of being transmitted." You may look below to the verb transmit and find the key to this problem; or you may satisfy yourself with a guess long before you have run the definition down by ated references. THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY makes every entry :, and explains every word in such simple language that only a single reference will be led. Even in closely related words like the noun "transmission," and the verb nsmit," each definition is complete in itself.

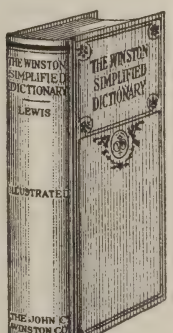
Unlike Any Other Dictionary

An extraordinary amount of the most careful and original work has n given to this book by experienced scholars and experts. New kinds of erial have been introduced; new methods of clarifying meanings dis-ered; and the entire book harmonized. Careful judgment has been cised on every question of method and form, while the simplicity and quacy of all scientific statements have been carefully verified. THE NSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY represents CAREFUL SCHOLAR-P AND WIDE EXPERIENCE, such as has not been given to any diction-of like purpose previously published.



The Cloth Style is a rich book. It is bound in the finest cloth made and has design on side and back stamped in gold.

A Large and Carefully Selected Vocabulary—Lists Over Forty Thousand Words

Each set out in bold type to catch the untrained eye, and each defined erms easy to understand. It will be found useful in home and office an aid to teachers in the elementary and high schools of the country, particular value in vocational and continuation schools, and in Amer-ization classes, where older men and women are endeavoring to get a mmand of the language to fit them for intelligent citizenship.

NOTABLE FEATURES OF MERIT IN

SIMPLIFIED DEFINITIONS

Each definition is given in clear and easily understood language and is complete in itself. In no instance is a word defined in terms of itself or in more difficult words, as is the case in other school dictionaries

WEALTH OF VERBAL ILLUSTRATIONS

Thousands of words are much more easily understood from their context in sentences than from definitions. For this reason THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY gives many more illustrative sentences and phrases than any other similar dictionary. An examination of any page will show how frequently this helpful device has been employed, and with what excellent results.

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF EDUCATIONAL VALUE

The meaning of many words can best be shown by pictures. The illustrations in this dictionary are new pictures prepared for their value in clarifying the meanings of words, and in teaching. Over 800 new illustrations were made especially for this book.

TYPOGRAPHY

Every word defined is printed in large, clear type. The eye, instead of wandering all over the page, quickly catches the word desired. This is a result of exhaustive tests, and the most modern facilities in typesetting. Comparison will show that THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY has a more legible page than any other elementary dictionary published.

PRONUNCIATION

The pronunciation of the words is indicated by a phonetic respelling, with diacritical markings. The system is a simplified adaptation of those now in general use in school and college text books. The markings are very simple and easily understood. No attempt has been made to indicate obscure and difficult distinctions. To aid in obtaining the quick pronunciation of each word, a Key to Pronunciation is given at the foot of each page.

ABSOLUTELY FLEXIBLE
The leather Bindings of the Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are so flexible and so durable that they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

CLEARNUTYPE DICTIONARIES

The Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

The Unusual CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

In clearness of type and the ease with which the eye finds the word; in simplicity and accuracy of definition; in fullness of contents and logical arrangement Universal CLEARNUTYPE will be found to excel other works of like purpose.

Among the Noteworthy Features are the Following:

Words defined are printed in bold-face type with definitions in clear, easily read type.

Each word is divided into syllables to show the proper syllabication of words.

The capitalization of words. All proper words begin with capital letters, common words with small letters.

Compound words have a bold-face hyphen.

Synonyms and antonyms are given in the body of the dictionary following the definitions of the words.

The Pronunciation of words is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling with key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The parts of speech are given.

All definitions are given in simple language that is easily understood.

CLEARNUTYPE

SCHOOL DICTIONARIES

Handy School Dictionary

School Dictionary (For General Use) High School Dictionary

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

These modern dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other Lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS

Among the Noteworthy Features Are the Following:

They Contain All the Words in the English language in ordinary use, including the many new words that have recently come into use.

The Definitions are Accurate and Reliable and embrace all recent distinctions and shades of meaning.

Words Conveniently Divided Into Syllables in the manner employed by the best writers.

The Proper Use of Capital and Small Letters is clearly indicated. All proper nouns begin with capital letters; common nouns begin with small letters.

The Pronunciation of Each Word is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling, with a key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The Synonyms and Antonyms are given with the definitions, instead of being placed in a separate list in an appendix according to the usual but less convenient method.

Each Word and Its Derivatives are separately indexed instead of the suffix words and prefix words being crowded in with the definitions, an expedient used to save space, but with a loss of clearness and utility.

A Clear Face Type, alike for words and definitions, is employed, to avoid the necessity of close and wearisome scrutiny.

CLEARNESS of type, and the EASE with which the eye finds the word; SIMPLICITY and ACCURACY of definition; FULLNESS of CONTENTS and LOGICAL ARRANGEMENT make these the ideal dictionaries for school use.

A SILENT WITNESS

The ordinary mystery story seems commonplace when compared with this new novel by Dr. Freeman. The plot is so buttressed by curious scientific facts, in the use of which Dr. Freeman is a past master, that it defies the most astute reader, and instructs while it fixes the interest. It is full of the thrill of perilous adventure, of fiendish conspiracy, and of hazardous attempts to ferret out a resourceful, unscrupulous criminal. How Thorndyke, medico-legal expert, pieces infinitesimal facts together with infinite care, how he bridges the gaps in his network, and triumphantly discovers the undiscoverable, makes him a classical figure among the great detectives of fiction. 8vo. 382 pages. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, says: "At last, thank God, this conspiracy of silence is ended." The New York Times pronounces it "epoch making." SYLVIA

Appearing at the psychological moment when social questions are at the front, "Sylvia" is the "inside story of a great society wedding, and reveals the things the public never hears. In its picture of the old, fast-vanishing Southern life, and in the unfolding of the character of a charming girl, the book is surpassing, while in the final, startling scenes, it brings home to the individual reader the horror which is hidden in the phrase, "sowing his wild oats." 413 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

SYLVIA'S MARRIAGE

Upton Sinclair here tells the very human and convincing story of the married life of Sylvia Castleman, a socially-distinguished Southern girl of rare charm, who, against her own inclination, for family reasons married the scion of a great New York family. The story involves a vivid picture of the class system that sacrificed Sylvia. Her beauty and the purity of her character make all the more impressive the tumult of indignation and protest with which she contemplates her child's blindness—the consequence of the former misdeeds of her husband. "Sylvia's Marriage" utterly annihilates the curse of false modesty and reticence in vital sex matters. It is a vital story—a novel that men should read for their preservation, and women for their protection. Cloth, 348 pages.

NEW PRACTICAL
"House and Garden" Books
"BEST OF THEIR KIND"

In the preparation of the books described in these pages, the first consideration has been to give practical and dependable information, free from technical terms. They have also been more lavishly illustrated than similar books sold at the same price.

The descriptions of the volumes give an accurate idea of their value and utility, and the high reputation of the editors should in itself be sufficient warrant for the general opinion that they are the "best books of their kind."

Rockwell, F. F.
HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING

Size 5¼ x 7¼ inches

A concise book on home vegetable gardening that also includes the growing of berries and fruit. Books of this kind usually treat the subject in an encyclopedic way, telling what vegetables there are and what pests are likely to attack them, and so on, giving far too much information of this kind and not enough for the man who wants to establish a vegetable garden on his suburban lot for family use. Mr. Rockwell, the author of this work, is a practical gardener himself. From long experience he realizes just what the average layman wants to know in order to raise a successful and varied crop. He realizes also that this information must be presented in a logical sequence in order that it may be used to the best advantage.

The book tells: 1. How much space is necessary for a family of a given size; 2. How to divide the space in the proper proportions for the various vegetables and trees; 3. What varieties have been tried and found true; 4. How to plant, cultivate, spray, fertilize, and finally bring the crop to fruition. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth, decorated with inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full color.

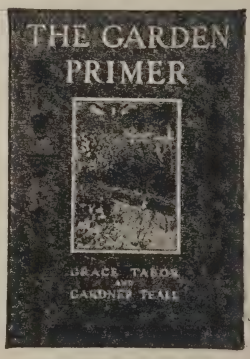
Tabor, Grace
THE GARDEN PRIMER



Size 5¼ x 7¼ inches

An indispensable book for every garden maker. It is a handbook of practical gardening information, covering every branch of the subject from preparing the soil to the gathering of the fruit and flowers. A profusion of illustrations, many of them of the most practical sort in explaining the various garden operations, make the text especially clear. The matter is supplemented by carefully prepared planting tables, an invaluable guide to every garden lover, as well as to the beginner in gardening. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth, tastefully decorated with an inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full colors.

DISTINCTIVE HOMES OF MODERATE COST

New and revised edition. The illustrations, of which there are more than three hundred, both of the exterior of houses, their garden settings, and the principal rooms inside, are all from photographs of houses already built, ranging in cost from $3,000 to $20,000. The floor plans are also given. All architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The relations between the home-builder and his architect, the matter of plans, specifications, contracts, the puzzling problem of extras and how to avoid them—all these subjects are clarified in a most comprehensive and interesting way. 4to. Shakespeare's Complete Works

FALSTAFF EDITION—ILLUSTRATED

Edited by GEORGE LONG DUYCKINCK, with a full and comprehensive Life of Shakespeare by J. PAYNE COLLIER, A.M. Illustrated with 32 portraits of famous actors and actresses whose names are linked with Shakespearian productions

This set of Shakespeare combines neatness with serviceability. The books are small, but stoutly as well as handsomely bound, and the type is clear and easily read, printed on good stout paper. There is nothing of the toy about this little library of the immortal Shakespeare. The books are made to be handled and read, not to be put on the shelf for show purposes.

Notes are avoided as far as possible, but preceding each play is an explanatory introduction, and in addition there is a glossary which clarifies unusual words. It will be remembered that Shakespeare had a greater vocabulary than any other man; nearly three times as extensive as that of the man in the street.

As well as the plays and poems of Shakespeare, there is an entertaining history of the English stage and drama to the time of the master playwright; a backward glance revealing simplicity of stage settings without any of the mechanical facilities that mean so much to the modern stage manager. Also there is a vivid word-picture of the life of Shakespeare himself.

Grace Before Meals

William Nyce and Hubert Bunyea

Brief prayers for every day in the year collected from many sources and arranged. Additional forms for national feast days, so that the monotony of repetition of a single form of grace each day is happily avoided. It also provides a method by which the several members of the family, including the children, can alternate in saying grace by reading the prayer for the day. The book is printed from handsome black type, is attractive in appearance, and will appeal to all persons who customarily say grace before meals, as well as to those who do not make a practice of saying grace, and it is hoped to many who have not been accustomed to this beautiful and simple form of devotion. 16 mo. in size.

THE JOHN C. WINSTON CO.

THE THREE BOOKS EVERY CHILD SHOULD OWN

No stories have given as much pleasure to children as these classics which have stood the test of time. The editions described below are made in uniform style, are lavishly illustrated and handsomely bound.

Arabian Nights (New 1920)

Over a thousand years ago lived the great Caliph of Bagdad, Haroun-al-Raschid, around whom center the tales of the Arabian Nights. More fascinating tales were never told. It is related of Antoine Galland, the Frenchman, who was the first to introduce the tales to Europe, that after he had published a few of the stories, he was roused from sleep by bands of young men under his windows in Paris, importuning him to "tell them another story." The tales have lost no whit of their charm in the passing of the centuries. Customs have changed, but human nature has changed but little. It is because the tales of the Thousand and and One Nights are true to life that they have maintained their grip on all sorts and conditions of readers, young and old. This new edition has the best of the stories, including the old favorites, "Ali Baba," "Sinbad," "Aladdin," as well as the less known "Enchanted Horse," "The Story of the Fisherman," "The Magic Carpet," "The Adventures of Caliph Haroun," and a host of others. The type is large and easily read. The tales are profusely illustrated. It is an exceedingly attractive volume, a triumph of the arts of the translator, the illustrator, the engraver and the printer.

The complete book contains 320 pages. 60 text illustrations. Four colored plates, with cover design in colors. Bound in Cloth. (Size $6\frac{1}{2}$ x $8\frac{7}{8}$ inches.) Price..... $1.50 Net

MARY FRANCES STORY-INSTRUCTION BOOKS

FOR TEACHING CHILDREN USEFUL THINGS IN AN ENTERTAINING WAY

These are not mere story books to be read through and cast aside. They are instruction books in story form which the youthful readers joyfully study because they think it is play. But in this play they learn principles of usefulness which fascinate because of the manner in which these principles are presented

The Mary Frances Story Book

Or Adventures Among the Story People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

The Mary Frances Story Book is different from previously published Mary Frances Books. These books are part story and part lessons; they teach something about cooking and sewing, knitting and crocheting, housekeeping and gardening and first aid—and tell a story, too; but The Mary Frances Story Book is all story, including stories of humor and fun, of courage and perseverance, of kindness and generosity, of service and reward, of fair play and good manners, of home and country.

STORIES THAT BREATHE SUNSHINE AND HAPPINESS

On a summer afternoon Mary Frances took a holiday and sailed away across the blue water to an island—an island formed by the top of a coral mountain resting in a sea of blue, oh, so blue—a brighter blue than the water in your mother's bluing tub—not the blue that makes you feel sad and blue, but the blue that makes you laugh with happiness. The island itself and the roofs of the houses were coral-white, and the green was the green of the palm and banana and mahogany tree. The breezes that blew over them were the warm soft breezes of the southern sun. This island was the enchanted island of the good story-tellers which Mary Frances was allowed to visit. The story people who lived there believed in truth and beauty, and courage and kindness, and love of home and country; and these were the theme of their stories. Like all good islands this island had enemies, for there were a pirate's cove, a devil's den, and evil persons who meant no good; but they came to a bad end as, in the long run, all evil places and persons will; and truth and beauty and courage and kindness won the day, as they always must in every land where the searchlight of the sun flashes its beams. As may be imagined, when Mary Frances came home she had not only one, but many stories to tell; and they are written in this book.

FULL OF ATTRACTIVE ILLUSTRATIONS

The complete book is the size of the Mary Frances Sewing Book and is profusely illustrated, including many full-page plates in colors.

Size 7 x 9½ inches; 320 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design. Price, $2.00 net.

The Mary Frances Sewing Book

Or Adventures Among the Thimble People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

The story of how the Thimble People taught Mary Frances to sew is as quaint and delightful a story as ever appealed to a child's imagination. It leads the reader irresistibly on to learn what Mary Frances learned, and to find out all the amusing experiences which she had with these comical little elves.

The Bound-In and Detachable Patterns are Worth the Price of the Book

One of the most unique features of this book are the thirty-three patterns, which include everything to complete the doll's wardrobe—underclothes, morning, afternoon and party gowns; coats, bonnets, caps, night-gown, kimono, and all the dainty little things to delight a child's heart. The patterns are bound in the book in duplicate—one set on heavy paper to remain permanently in the book, with a second set on thin paper that can be detached for use. They are regular, full-size working-patterns with full directions for their use, and enable a girl to outfit her doll completely.

THE

Mary Frances Knitting and Crocheting Book

Or Adventures Among the Knitting People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

Here is the fascinating story of how little Mary Frances took her first lesson in crocheting and knitting, and from this advanced to deserve recognition as an expert. The first steps were making things for dollies, but after a girl has learned to crochet and knit for the dollies it is "as easy as A-B-C" to crochet and knit for real people.

Even the Littlest Girl can Learn with Crochet Hook and Knitting Needle

Fullest instructions given in simple language on how to make a doll's crocheted necklace, how to make chain stitches, single and double crochet, how to make crocheted bedroom slippers, how to knit plain, how to purl, how to knit an aviator doll's outfit, and a hundred other things that give delight. An absorbing book for grown-ups as well as chilldren.

Pictures on Every Page—Everywhere you open the book there are piquant pictures; and in addition to those in black and white are a number of colored illustrations showing exactly what can be done with colored wools.

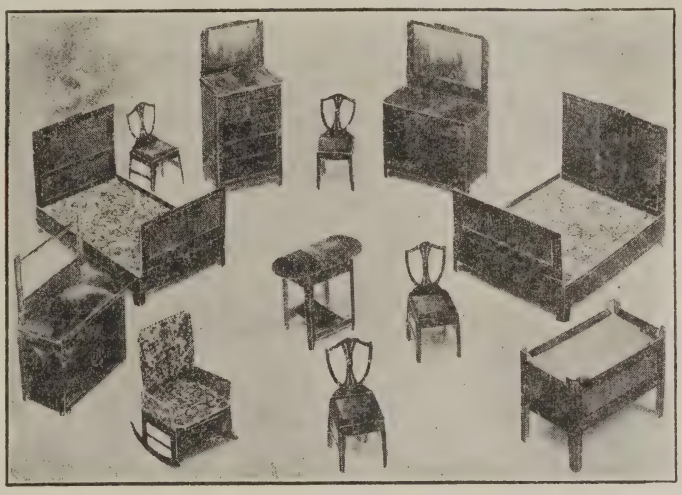
Size 7 x 9½ inches; 270 pages; bound in cloth with attractive cover design. Price, $2.00 net.

The Mary Frances Housekeeper

Or Adventures Among the Doll People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

It is doubtful whether any story more captivating than The Mary Frances Housekeeper has ever been written for girls. In the most skilful manner, it takes advantage of the natural childish instinct to "play house," and the opportunity to instil the fundamental principles of good housekeeping is improved through the medium of the delightful story of Mary Frances' experience in teaching her dolls to keep house.

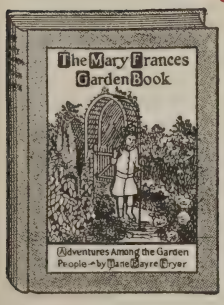


36 sheets of wonderful paper dolls and cut-out furniture. There is a whole family of dolls and a houseful of furniture. The furniture folds together with a patented, self-locking system that obviates the use of paste, pins, etc. The sheer delight of cutting out and playing with the furniture and dolls, whose fortunes are recounted in the story, creates an intense interest in the housekeeping instruction. Size 7 x 9½ inches; 280 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $2.00 net.

The Mary Frances Garden Book

Or Adventures Among the Garden People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



How to grow flowers and vegetables clearly told in story form. The Mary Frances Garden Book actually teaches children how to grow all their favorite flowers and vegetables—how to prepare the soil, how to plant the seeds, how to plant bulbs, the names of parts of flowers, how plants grow by fertilization and reproduction, how to guard against insect enemies, how to care for growing plants, how to make a hotbed, what flowers and vegetables are best for children's gardens, etc., etc. and gives an outline of each month's work for a year. In brief, in the simplest possible words and style, and in the most fascinating kind of story, it gives the little reader a more intelligent knowledge of the processes of Nature.

COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS ON EVERY PAGE

In addition to colored illustrations, on every page, there are a number of colored cut-out gardens painted direct from photographs to show the form and color of the flowers, and to prove that the garden plans in the book are not "ideals," but an actual working basis for little gardeners. 378 pages; size 7 x 9½ inches. Bound in cloth, with an attractive cover design. Price, $2.00 net.

The Mary Frances Cook Book

Or Adventures Among the Kitchen People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

This winsome book tells in story form how Mary Frances learned to cook. It gives the recipes in the simplest, plainest words. It describes every operation clearly—just what she did, the mistakes she made (mistakes other little girls are apt to make at first) and how she learned to overcome them. The recipes are arranged in the order of their simplicity. The easiest comes first, and by gradual steps as experience gives confidence the young reader is led to the preparation of the more difficult dishes.

"A Sauce Pan is a funny thing."

TURNS DRUDGERY INTO PLEASURE AND CREATES A DESIRE TO BE HELPFUL

The book is attractive to children. It makes the use of common kitchen utensils a pleasure instead of drudgery. The pots and pans are made to talk, and what they say entertains as well as instructs. They become the Kitchen People, each with a personality of its own. No one who reads of "Aunty Rolling Pin" and her quaint speeches will ever again think of a rolling pin as a mere thing of wood. So with all the Kitchen People; their personalities are impressed on the young mind in such a way as to attract instead of repel.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 175 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $2.00 net.

THE BIG SERIES OF GIRLS' BOOKS FOR 1920

The "Red Cross Girls" Series

By MARGARET VANDERCOOK

Author of "Stories About Camp Fire Girls," the "Ranch Girls" Series, etc.

While Mrs. Vandercook is widely known, both in this country and abroad, for her short stories, poems and other articles contributed to magazines, and more recently as a novelist, her enviable reputation rests chiefly on her popularity as a writer of girls' books. In her latest series, the "Red Cross Girls' Series, she has excelled all her previous achievements. These stories deal with four girls of widely different education who enlist as Red Cross nurses in the European War. Mrs. Vandercook has avoided everything of a depressing or gruesome nature in the development of these stories, yet the elements of heroism and self-sacrifice are most commendably employed in the account of the services which the girls render on and near the great battle-field. More than that, the lighter and romantic aspects of these stories will endear them to a host of readers. The books are alive with plot and action. Handsomely bound in cloth. Fully illustrated. NAMES ON BIBLES

We have so many inquiries with reference to lettering Bibles that we call attention of the trade to the fact that we are prepared to fill all orders for lettering, stamping the names in pure gold.

In placing orders for lettering, state whether you want lettering on the outside or the inside front cover. Also whether you want the lettering in Roman or Old English types. When no choice is expressed we will put the name on the outside front cover and in Roman type.

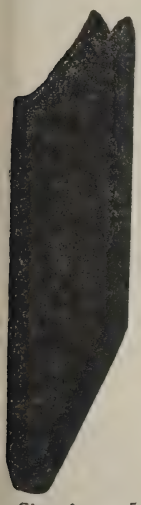
SAMPLES OF TYPE

JOHN R. SMITH
(Roman type)

William Brown
(Old English type)

Price for lettering Bibles 40 cents per line. This price is subject to same discount as we allow on the Bibles.

The International Note Book



Size of page, 5½ x 8½ inches

This book was prepared originally for pastors, but evangelists, teachers, and others have found it a most useful book for recording notes, sermons, essays, and Scriptural references of all kinds.

IN APPEARANCE the book looks like a Divinity Circuit Bible, and therefore does not make the carrying of sermons or notes as conspicuous as would any other form of book. It has no printed matter inside and has no lettering on the outside cover. Pastors can use the book to record their sermons, and will find it more satisfactory to lay the book open before them when delivering their sermons than the use of loose memorandum sheets, and by using the book for this purpose it also preserves their sermons and notes in substantial form.

HOW THE BOOK IS MADE The book contains over 500 pages ruled with horizontal faint blue lines, thereby making it equally suitable to those who like to write on lines and those who prefer a page without lines.

BINDING. The book is bound in French Seal, Divinity Circuit style, round corners, red under gold edges, and has silk marker.

Price, only..... $4.00
Mailing weight, twenty-eight ounces

ALPHABETICAL INDEX. We also prepare the book with an alphabetical index in the back of it, so that by numbering the subjects entered in the book all such subjects can be indexed for ready reference, or the book can be paged and subjects indexed by pages—or both.

Price with Index..... $.460
Mailing weight, twenty-eight ounces

The Bindings of International Bibles

Representative Cloth Binding. Extra Imported Cloth is used. The lettering is always stamped in pure gold.

The cuts used in describing the bindings in this catalog are for the most part wood cuts, and therefore fail to adequately show the beauty of the different bindings, and for that reason we represent the three classes of bindings in the half-tone cuts shown on this page, which are reproduced by photographic process and are therefore exact. The different classes of Bibles are bound similar to these reproductions which will give you a better idea of their attractiveness, but even these cuts fail to represent the beauty of the Bibles themselves.

Representative Leather Limp Binding, usually Seal Grained Leather is used, except on small Bibles where a small Grained Leather is used. These bindings are very durable.

Representative Divinity Circuit Binding, with overlapping edges. International Bibles have an appearance that is distinctive.

With Reference to Cuts

We are always pleased to furnish cuts of Bibles to customers for advertising purposes free of charge. In ordering cuts, please always give the number of the page on which the desired cut is printed and also the name of the Bible it represents, so that no mistake can be made in filling the order. We can also furnish electrotypes of type specimens, and are always willing to lend our assistance in the preparation of advertising material.

THE JOHN C. WINSTON CO.

International Bibles are so flexible and durable they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

THE book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren;

3 And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4 And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon; was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS:

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

JUST ISSUED — "INTERNATIONAL" CLEARNUTYPE — JUST ISSUED

TEXT BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

Modern Arrangement That Makes This Bible More Usable

It has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has the chapter numbers of each of the Books of the Bible in Arabic numerals and also gives the sequential number of each chapter in the Bible; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; contains colored maps of the Holy Lands.

The Size Commends It For Many Uses

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

The books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

29 ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

2 CHAPTER 2.

1 The first sabbath. 8 The garden of Eden. 21 The making of woman. 24 The institution of marriage.

THUS the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

4 ¶ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

5 And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

8 ¶ And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Ē'dĕn; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out of Ē'dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pī'son: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Hăv'ī-lah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gī'hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à.

14 And the name of the third river is Hĭd'de-kĕl: that is it which goeth toward the east of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-à. And the fourth river is Eū-phrā'tēs.

15 And the LORD God took the man, and put him into the garden of Ē'dĕn to dress it and to keep it.

16 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Ăd'ăm to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Ăd'ăm called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And Ăd'ăm gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ăd'ăm there was not found an help meet for him.

21 And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Ăd'ăm, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

23 And Ăd'ăm said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

24 Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Eve deceived. 6 The fall of man. 14 The curse. 22 Expulsion from the garden.

NOW the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field

All through the Bible proper words are accented and divided into syllables, which makes pronunciation easy. This feature is useful, especially in the Old Testament which abounds with difficult words.

Gives the consecutive number of each chapter of the Bible, showing that there are 1189 chapters in the Bible

Note the clearness of the type.

Solomon's adversaries. — I KINGS, 11.

Mō'ab, in the hill that is before Je-ru'sa-lèm; and for Mō'lech, the abomination of the children of Am'mon.

8 And likewise did he for all his strange wives, which burnt incense, and sacrificed unto their gods.

9 And the LORD was angry with Sŏl'o-mon, because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 Wherefore the LORD said unto Sŏl'o-mon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

25 And he was an adversary to Iṣ'ra-el all the days of Sŏl'o-mon, beside the mischief that Hā'dăd did: and he abhorred Iṣ'ra-el, and reigned over Sȳr'i-a.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Sŏl'o-mon built Mil'lo, and repaired the breaches of the city of Dā'vid his father.

28 And the man Jĕr-o-bō'am was a mighty man of valour: and Sŏl'o-mon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Jō'seph.

Prepared in Simple Language and Printed from Bold Face Type

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bibles. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalties of scholars. The work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that [z]Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ā'bră-hăm, saying, [y]God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [z]swear unto me here by God [1]that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ā'bră-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And Ā'bră-hăm reproved Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch because of a well of water, which Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch's servants had violently [a]taken away.

26 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ā'bră-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch; and both of them [b]made a covenant.

28 And Ā'bră-hăm set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ā'bră-hăm, [c]What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that [d]they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he [e]called that place [2]Bē'er–shē'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bē'er–shē'bà: then Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the [f]land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ā'bră-hăm planted a [3]grove in Bē'er–shē'bà, and called there on the name of the LORD, the [g]everlasting God.

34 And Ā'bră-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

22 CHAPTER 22.

1 Abraham offers Isaac. 13 A ram substituted. 15 Abraham blessed. 20 Nahor's offspring.

AND it came to pass after these things, that [a]God did tempt Ā'bră-hăm, and said unto him, Ā'bră-hăm: and he said, [1]Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, [b]Take now thy son, thine only son Ĭ'sąac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land [c]of Mō-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ā'bră-hăm [d]rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ĭ'sąac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And Ā'bră-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ā'bră-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering, and [e]laid it upon Ĭ'sąac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ĭ'sąac spake unto Ā'bră-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, [2]Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the [3]lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'bră-hăm said, My son, God will provide himself [f]a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ā'bră-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and [g]bound Ĭ'sąac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'bră-hăm [h]stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ā'bră-hăm, Ā'bră-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, [i]Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now [j]I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'bră-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [k]in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'bră-hăm called the name of that place [4]Jĕ-hō'vah–jī'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'bră-hăm out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, [l]By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the [m]stars of the heaven, and as the [n]sand which is upon the sea [5]shore; and thy seed shall [o]possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And [p]in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because [q]thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So Ā'bră-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er–shē'bà; and Ā'bră-hăm dwelt at Bē'er–shē'bà.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these

INDIA PAPER BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Containing the authorized version of the Old Testament and the New Testament, with all proper names accented and divided into syllables—and maps in colors.

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any self-pronouncing Bible of like size.

THE SIZE COMMENDS IT FOR MANY USES

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

EVERY PAGE IS HELPFUL AND LEADS TO FURTHER DISCOVERY OF THE GREATEST TRUTHS IN GOD'S WORD

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first versei n the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

H 6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. H. 19. 12, 13.

8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

C 12 And God looked [j]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. C. Exod. 20. 5.

F 13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [k]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [5]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [6]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. F. 6. 20.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, [l]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [m]shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

F 20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. F. 6. 22.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [n]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 [o]Thus did Nō'ah; [p]according to all that God commanded him, so did he. F

CHAPTER 7.

1 Noah, with his family, and the living creatures, enter into the ark. 17 The beginning, increase, and continuance of the flood. 21 All flesh destroyed.

O AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, Come [a]thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous [b]before me in this generation. O. 15. 6.

2 Of every [c]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [1]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and [d]I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I [2]destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all [e]that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 And [f]Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass [3]after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the [g]fountains of the great deep broken up, and [h]the [4]windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

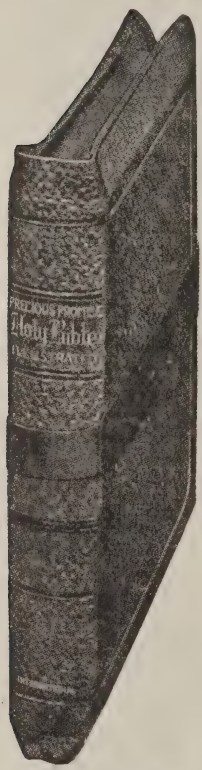
A Galaxy of Promises Like the Milky Way in the Heavens

The "International" Self-Pronouncing

Precious Promise Bible

Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures with the Exceedingly Great and Precious Promises Indexed and Marked in Red



Size, 5¼ x 8¼ inches

That which inspires more searching of the Scriptures than any other of their varied contents is the promises In anxiety, in perplexity, in disappointment, in poverty, in loneliness, in sorrow, we turn to this book for guidance, for strength, for comfort, and for cheer. Imagine a Bible with all its promises stricken out, and blank spaces in their stead —would many people spend time in reading such a Bible?

Marks the Promises of Help for Every Human Need in Every Home

Even though one be a daily reader of the Bible, it is not always easy to find or to recall from so large a volume the text needed at some special hour. Profound scholars of the Bible have done this for us in the most simplified form in the PRECIOUS PROMISE BIBLE, and have brought the treasures of the Scriptures to light. Each promise is marked in red, and all the promises are divided into classes. Each class is so indicated and tied together that the reader can easily trace any class of promises through the Bible from text to text, and find for himself a wealth of promises upon any subject desired.

Precious Promise Subjects Marked in this Bible

- A. ALL THINGS Working Together for Good.
- B. The Lord's BLESSING on fields and flocks.
- C. CLOTHING Provided for God's Children.
- E. EVERLASTING LIFE and Heaven Promised.
- F. FOOD Provided for the Lord's Children.
- G. GIFTS and Fruits of the Spirit Promised.
- H. HEALTH and HEALING Promised.
- I. Pardon for Sins and INIQUITIES Promised.
- J. JOY and Peace and Rest Promised.
- K. God KNOWS Our Needs and Answers Prayer.
- L. The Lord's LOVE and Care for His Children.
- P. PROSPERITY in Business and Finance.
- R. Blessing for Children, RELATIVES, Friends.
- S. SAFETY from all Harm and Danger Promised.
- T. THE HOLY SPIRIT Promised.
- U. The UPRIGHT are Blessed and Prospered.
- V. VICTORY over Enemies and Troubles.
- W. WHOSOEVER WILL May be Saved.

EXPLANATION

In the Precious Promise Bible is an Index (shown in reduced size above) in which the promises are classified under different subjects, and a letter is used to stand for the principal word of each subject.

After each subject in the Index there is a reference to the first verse in the Old Testament and also a reference to the first verse in the New Testament on that subject. Underneath each subject in the Index there are several references to the most important verses in the Scriptures on that subject.

The letter which stands for each subject is printed on the margin of every promise on that subject. The letter which stands for each subject is also used in front of every reference on that subject.

After every promise marked in this Bible there is a reference to the next promise on the same subject. This enables any person to go through the Bible and read every promise on any particular subject.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your /Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. K. 7. 7–11.
9 After this manner therefore pray ye: gOur Father which art in heaven, hHallowed be thy name.
10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, 'as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our /daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. F. verses 25–34.
13 And klead us not into temptation, but deliver 'us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Ā-mĕn'.
14 For "if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:
15 But "if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.
16 ¶Moreover "when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.
17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;
18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. U. verse 33.
19 ¶Lay "not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:
20 But "lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:
21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
22 The 'light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.
23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, 'how great is that darkness!
24 No 'man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon.
25 Therefore I say unto you, 'Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?
26 Behold "the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?
27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?
28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:
29 And yet I say unto you, That even Sŏl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?
31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?
32 (For after all these things do the Gĕn'tiles seek:) for "your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.
33 But "seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. U. 13. 8.
34 Take therefore no 'thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. C. 10. 10.

Christ endeth his sermon on the mount.

JUDGE "not, that ye be not judged.
2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: 'and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.
3 And "why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?
4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?
5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. This same method is followed in the eighteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Precious Promises.

This is an age of many pictures and of illustrated books. There is no book which has been so much illustrated as the Bible. There is no other subject upon which the art and genius of the painter has expended so much time, nor one on which he has wrought with such inspiring power upon the minds and hearts of all nations of the civilized world.

The storehouse of Sacred Art is inexhaustible in quantity, and rich beyond comparison in the quality of its treasures.

The publishers of these Bibles have drawn upon the world's treasury of Sacred Art for the most appropriate masterpieces with which to embellish the Art Edition of this great work. Historic events and notable scenes both in the Old Testament and the New have been chosen with a view to helping to illuminate the text and impress its teaching upon the mind of the reader.

As a gift Bible to parent, teacher, friend or child either of these Art Editions will prove particularly pleasing.

Each of the Bibles described below contains the "International" Teacher's Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, as described on pages 26-28. Family Record and Maps in Color.

This Testament will be prized by anyone receiving it. It is printed from remarkably large, clear, easily read type and is smaller in size than the many small type Testaments on the market.

ST. MATTHEW. Parable of the talents. [64]

thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him,

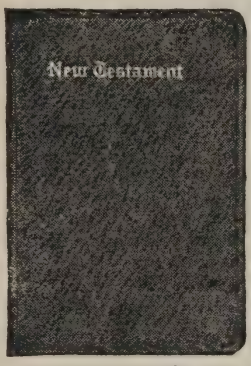
The New Bold Face Type Testament

WITH EXPLANATORY NOTES AND COMPLETE INDEX



Size, 4 x 6 inches

The specimen of type reproduced here shows the Bold Face type from which this Testament is printed. This type is large, clear, and restful to the eye—making this the easiest-reading Testament to be found anywhere. It also shows the foot-notes (printed right on the pages with the corresponding text) and the interpolated explanations which divide the gospel into logical, coherent sections without disturbing the old, but arbitrary, division into chapters and verses. These foot-notes and interpolations clear up obscure points in the text without the inconvenience and time-consuming task of referring to a commentary. Through the employment of this very latest developement of modern Bible-making, this Self-Interpreting Testament takes its place as the most understandable New Testament yet published.

A COPYRIGHTED INDEX FOR FINDING ANY WORD IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

A special feature of this Testament is the complete index by which any verse in the New Testament may be found by looking alphabetically for any important word contained in that verse. It is a combination concordance and subject index, and makes this edition of the New Testament of particular value to all who want to obtain the fullest value from the Scriptures.

Printed on the famous "thin Bible paper" used in many of the "International" Bibles, this Testament is only 4 x 6 inches in size.

Christian Worker's Testament

Indexed and marked by the best methods of Bible marking on all subjects connected with

THE THEME OF SALVATION

—so as to—

Enable any person to turn rapidly to verses on these subjects. To give Bible Readings at a moment's notice, or to tell at a glance the subject of any verse or passage marked

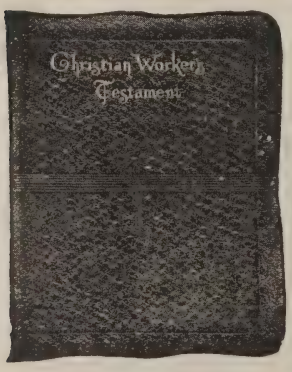
THE TESTAMENT MADE EASY TO READ

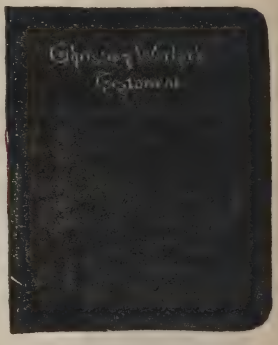
In the plan of this Testament Salvation is recognized as the dominant theme in the New Testament. Undoubtedly the greatest benefit in the reading of the Testament comes to the one who searches the Scriptures for himself and finds this stream of salvation running through its pages. But it is evident that the majority of people, even Bible readers and Bible-lovers have neither the time for such deep study nor the peculiar ability which it requires. People in general who would best understand their Bibles must depend upon those who have made a special study of these subjects and must receive the result of their labors. We cannot all be close students, but we can all be diligent readers of the Word of God.

Helpful to Every Class of Scripture Readers

Many methods have been devised for guiding Bible readers and of helping them to become Bible students, but the most ingenious and most helpful of these methods is that presented in this edition of the Testament.

Every class of Scripture students will find enjoyment and benefit in this system of marking. Ministers can use it to advantage. It will enable Lay Workers to interest and impress a company of listeners. The Sunday School Teacher will find it helpful. To the Y. M. C. A. Worker this is a marked Testament of which the key always hangs at the door. If anyone is inquiring the way of salvation what better plan can be suggested than to put this volume in his hands with the recommendation to read from it the texts on that topic which he most needs for his guidance.





In Handsome and Convenient Form

The Christian Worker's Testament is carefully printed from new type-set plates in red and black inks on extra quality of bright, rag Bible paper and is issued in a convenient size 3¾ x 4 inches.

For specimen of type and explanation of markings and exact size of Testament, see the following page.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see above). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see above).

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

A 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. A. Mark 9. 40.

L 31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. L. 18. 11-13.

H 32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. H. ver. 41, 42.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. C T Mark 5. 19.

35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things. C. 13. 14. 15.

J 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. J. ver. 41.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:
